6. In the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation, is more detail than just the aggregate level presented for expenditure estimates that cover a multi-year period (for at least two years beyond the budget year)?
- Yes, multi-year expenditure estimates are presented for all individual programs, and for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative).
  - Yes, multi-year estimates are presented for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative), but only for some individual programs.
  - Yes, multi-year estimates are presented, but only for a portion of one or more of the expenditure classifications (such as some functions, or some administrative units) and/or for only some individual programs.
  - No, multi-year estimates are presented for aggregate expenditure only, or they are not presented at all.
  - Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comment:

No, multi-year estimates aggregate expenditure are not presented at all. In fact the executive budget is defined only for one year.

Researcher's Response to this Question was "e."

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be "d." See the Law of the 26th Dec. 2007 concerning the financial rules of the State, art. 15

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

Researcher Response: I suggest the answer should remain as I indicated in the questionnaire "e."

I chose my answer because I worked with the financial law of 2007, voted in December 2006.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer, "d" to maintain consistency with the criteria used for selecting answers across countries.

Both researcher and reviewer's comments are not pertinent with the question. Indeed the budget proposal taken into consideration is that for the budget year 2007, approved in the December 2006.

Therefore the comment made by the reviewer is not pertinent.

However, given that no multi-year estimates were presented into the document, and not only this, but the document was not even made available to the public, the most appropriate answer is "d."

Section Three: The Budget Process

The Budget Process
Executive's Formulation of the Budget
66. How far in advance of the release of the budget is the day of its release known? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The release date is set in permanent law.</li> <li>The executive announces the release date at least two months in advance.</li> <li>The executive announces the release date less than two months but more than two weeks in advance.</li> <li>The executive announces the release date two weeks or less before the release, or makes no announcement.</li> <li>Not applicable/other (please comment).</li> </ol> Citation: Comment: The executive makes no announcement in advance of the release of the budget Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “a.” Constitutional provisions (1996) and budget ordinance of 1962 as amended in 2002. Researcher Response: I suggest the answer should be changed to “a” Besides the suggestion of peer reviewer two, we must accept that in practice the budget process is not running as it is envisaged by the Constitution, and that it does not follow any regular process. There are many irregularities in Cameroon. IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer, “d” to maintain consistency with the criteria used for selecting answers across countries. There is no provision for the date of release of the budget in the Constitution http://confinder.richmond.edu/admin/docs/Cameroon.pdf As for the Budget Ordinance (available here: http://www.spm.gov.cm/showtexte.php?idtexte=43&amp;lang=en): there is only article 49 which states that the finance bill should be tabled before the Bureau of the National Assembly not later than 15 days before the beginning of the session during which it shall be considered. But no mention of a specific date.	d

67. Does the executive release to the public its timetable for preparation of the executive's budget proposal (that is, a document setting deadlines for submissions from other government entities, such as line ministries or subnational government, to the ministry of finance or what ever central government agency is in charge of coordinating the budget's formulation)? a. Yes, a detailed timetable is released to the public.  b. Yes, a timetable is released, but some details are excluded.  c. Yes, a timetable is released, but it lacks important details.  d. No, a timetable is not issued to the public.  e. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: Comment: Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment:	d
68. Does the executive adhere to its timetable for the preparation and release of the budget? a. The executive adheres to the dates in its timetable.  b. The executive adheres to most of the key dates in its timetable.  c. The executive has difficulty adhering to most of the dates in its timetable.  d. The executive does not adhere to the dates in its timetable, or it does not release to the public its timetable.  e. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: Comment:  The executive does not release to the public its timetable. Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment:	d

69. Does the executive hold consultations with members of the legislature as part of its process of determining budget priorities? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Yes, the executive holds extensive consultations with a wide range of legislators.</li> <li>b. Yes, the executive holds consultations with a range of legislators, but some key members are excluded.</li> <li>c. Yes, the executive holds very limited consultations, involving only a few members of the legislature.</li> <li>d. No, the executive does not typically consult with members of the legislature as part of the budget preparation process.</li> <li>e. Not applicable/other (please comment).</li> </ul> Citation: Comment: Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Consultations between the executive and legislature appear continuous as the executive has a full-time minister in charge of relations with the legislature. However, the substance of the consultations or lack thereof is not entirely public. Partisan political considerations play a big part. Government supporters in the legislature rarely complain as opposition legislators often do, about executive budget consultations or lack thereof with them.	C

70. Does the executive hold consultations with the public as part of its process of determining budget priorities? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. But, political economy issue weight, partisan political considerations and analytical capacity have been key determinants of who is consulted, when and how. Researcher Response: I suggest the answer should be changed to “c” I agree with peer reviewer two. Because consultation doesn’t involved critical analysts and sometimes peoples who are consulted have no idea of the area where policies will be implemented. IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer, “c” to maintain consistency with the criteria used for selecting answers across countries.	C

In regards to the set objective of 426 billion, the disbursement was of 7.4 billion and the fulfillment rate of 101.7%. The increase found on the tax side is mostly due to the tax on non-oil companies and to the internal VAT, which have been augmenting respectively by 11.1 billion (+10.3%) and by 10.3 billion (+8.1%) between these two periods. The VAT passed from 127.7 to 138 billion, while the companies' tax passed from 108.2 billion to 119.3 billion. Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “c.” Its budget is include in the state budget adopted by the legislature

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

Researcher Response: I suggest the answer should be changed to “c”
See peer reviewer comment.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer, “c” to maintain consistency with the criteria used for selecting answers across countries.

According to the INTOSAI: The SAI can expend resources under the control of Ministry of finance. At the beginning of each year, the Minister-Delegate submits the annual audit program as well as the plan of action of the institution to the President for prior approval.

And also: The SAI is attached to the Executive branch of the government, under direct jurisdiction of Head of State and has no relation with the legislature. The SAI can Submit matters to competent judicial authorities in view of legal proceeding. The National assembly determines the budget of SAI however; the SAI makes its budgetary proposals which are submitted to the parliament. The SAI is subjected to the same procedures as regards financial accountability as other government bodies/ministries. The accounts of SAI are audited by the officers of the Ministry of Finance.
