Section Two: The Executive’s Budget Proposal

Notes on abbreviations:
BY = budget year (year for which the budget proposals are being made)
BY+1 = one year beyond the budget year
BY-1 = one year before the budget year

Note 1: The Open Budget Survey research process was carried out over a 12-month period and the final version of the Open Budget Questionnaires reflect decisions made after multiple rounds of discussions between Survey researchers, peer reviewers, and the International Budget Partnership (IBP) (in several countries these decisions also considered comments received from governments). When peer reviewers or governments agreed with the answers provided by researchers, they often provided no comment. Thus for many questions, the section in the questionnaire that should contain peer reviewer comments is left blank. However, if the government did not provide any comments to a question (because it did not dispute the answer), the section within the questionnaire that is meant to reflect government comments specifies the answer that the government agreed with (by default).

Since the IBP continued its discussions with the researchers even after receiving peer reviewer and government comments, for some questions these discussions resulted in a mutual decision to change the answers, even if the peer reviewers and governments agreed with the original answer provided by the researcher. Such changes may have happened as a result of:

1. A more consistent application of the Survey methodology;
2. New information identified by the researcher or by IBP that had a bearing on the answer for a particular question; or
3. Decisions made to ensure cross-country comparability of answers.

For more information on these changes for any question please write to info@internationalbudget.org.
The Executive’s Budget Proposal

Comment:
Aggregate expenditure based on functional classification for the Union Government are available in the Annual Financial Statement (cited above). Page # 4-6 of the first citation and Page # 8-11 of the second citation.

Apart from this, since 1968 the government has presented functional classification of the budget with a one year lag, i.e, a year after the budget proposal. For example, a detailed report of the Budget 2008-09 is available in February 2009 at:
http://finmin.nic.in/reports/FunClass200809.pdf

The presentation [or practice] is similar to that in the previous period, but researcher reassessment has led to a change in the response.

Peer Reviewer One Comment: I agree with the overall assessment. Clarification: economic classification of expenditure has been presented since FY 1957-58 and an economic-cum-functional classification since FY 1967-68.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:
3. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by economic classification?

a. All expenditures are classified by economic classification, and the categorization is compatible with international standards.
b. All expenditures are classified by economic classification, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards.
c. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by economic classification.
d. No expenditures classified by economic classification are presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comment:
Economic and Functional Classification of the central government budget (2008-2009) is available at:
http://finmin.nic.in/reports/FunClass200809.pdf

The report cited above provides detailed information on the Budget based on Economic and Functional Classification with a one year lag. However, this document cannot be cited as the Executive's Budget Proposal or a Supporting document for the Executive's Budget Proposal. Therefore the correct response to this question is “d”.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:
4. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for individual programs for the budget year?

   a. Program-level data are presented for all expenditures.
   b. Program-level data are presented for at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures.
   c. Program-level data are presented, but for less than two-thirds of expenditures.
   d. No program-level data are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

These two documents present detailed program-level data. For example, program-level data on the Department of Agriculture and Cooperation (Ministry of Agriculture) is available at:
and http://www.indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/eb/dg1.pdf

The presentation [or practice] is similar to that in the previous period, but researcher reassessment has led to a change in the response.

5. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, are estimates of the aggregate level of expenditure presented for a multi-year period (at least two years beyond the budget year)?

   a. Yes, multi-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are presented.
   b. No, multi-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are not presented.
   c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation:

   Comment:
   Multi-year budgeting is not practiced in India. However, for Fiscal Indicators annual rolling targets are set on a multi-year basis (see the following document).
   http://www.indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/frbm/frbm2.pdf, Page # 1, Table: A

   Regarding Expenditure, the Planning Commission (and its various working groups) proposes annual expenditures required on a multi-year basis. However, these are not included in budget documents and therefore the response is ‘b’.

   Peer Reviewer One Comment:

   Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

6. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, is more detail than just the aggregate level presented for expenditure estimates that cover a multi-year period (for at least two years beyond the budget year)?

   a. Yes, multi-year expenditure estimates are presented for all individual programs, and for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative).
   b. Yes, multi-year estimates are presented for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative), but only for some individual programs.
   c. Yes, multi-year estimates are presented, but only for a portion of one or more of the expenditure classifications (such as some functions, or some administrative units) and/or for only some individual programs.
   d. No, multi-year estimates are presented for aggregate expenditure only, or they are not presented at all.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation:

   As multi-year budgeting is not practiced in India “d” is the most appropriate answer.

Comment:
New policy proposals are accounted for in the budget to some extent but they are not very explicitly stated. However, this information is presented in the speech of the Finance Minister and in the Expenditure Budget volume II, it is easier to locate.

Sometimes, proposals are made in the budget speech but in the absence of a concrete administrative set up at the time of the budget proposal, allocations are not made properly. However, if these budgetary policy proposals take concrete shape during the rest of the year, they are accounted for in the supplementary budgets.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: The Budget Highlights provide information on some policy proposals and their impact on expenditure. However, these are very limited. The Macro Economic Framework on the other hand does not provide policy initiatives of the GOI – it is a description of inflation, growth rate, production, etc. A more appropriate citation for this question would be The Budget Speech by the Minister of Finance, July 6, 2009.

Researcher Response: I suggest the answer should remain as I indicated in the questionnaire “b.” I chose my answer because the above mentioned documents contain some information regarding new policy proposals; although this information is scattered across those documents. I think the cited documents provide adequate information to choose the answer “b.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” based on the researcher’s citation and comment.
17. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year that shows how policy proposals in the budget, as distinct from existing policies, affect revenues?

   a. Yes, extensive information on the impact of policy proposals on revenues is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting the impact of key policy proposals on revenues, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on the impact of policy proposals on revenues is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Receipt Budget 2009-10

Comment:
This document provides detailed information on revenue receipts. It also contains the new tax policy and its impact on revenues. For example, a new policy proposal such as the introduction of an additional education cess of 1% has been reflected in the receipt budget. In addition, the estimated revenue from the cesses administered by the department of revenue increased by 10 percent approximately, due to the introduction of education cess for secondary and higher education. (http://www.indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/rec/taxrev.pdf)

In the wake of the economic crisis, as the government cut down the customs and union excise duties (see budget speech 2009-10), there will be a significant decline in the revenue collections from those taxes and it is reflected in this document (see http://www.indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/rec/taxrev.pdf).

Comment:
On the mentioned site, the detailed Demand for Grants of all the Departments/Ministries are available. These provide detailed expenditure data up to the BY-2 level.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: This is incorrect. Both the Demands for Grants of Central Government, Expenditure Budget 2009-10 and the Expenditure Budget, Vol. II 2009-10 have budgeted and revised figures for BY-1 only, not for BY-2. The Expenditure Budget, Vol. I 2009-10 has actual expenditures for all individual programs for BY-2, starting with Statement 2, page 4 through 9 only. Also Trends in Expenditure, Expenditure Budget, Vol. I 2009-10, Annex 3, page 102, has actual expenditures from 2000-01 onwards.

Researcher Response: I agree with the reviewer’s comment. But I think the answer should be “a.” This is because every ministry, within 2-3 weeks of the presentation of budget, presents its respective “Detailed Demand for Grants” in the Parliament. This should be considered as a supporting budget document, which gives programme level data for year BY-2.

Say for example, Detailed Demand for Grants 2009-10, of the Ministry of Finance: http://www.finmin.nic.in/reports/detail_dg.html. This provides the actual expenditure data of 2007-08 even beyond the programme level. So, I think “a” is the most appropriate answer, but the citation must be replaced by the document, I am citing now.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “a” based on the researcher’s citation and comment.
25. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, what is the most recent year presented for which all expenditures reflect actual outcomes?

a. Two years prior to the budget year (BY-2).
b. Three years prior to the budget year (BY-3).
c. Before BY-3.
d. No actual data for all expenditures are presented in the budget or supporting budget documentation.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

In the budget circular 2009-10 (section 3.2.1) it is clearly mentioned that departments should ensure that all schemes that have been discontinued do not find mention in the revised estimates of the previous year. Similarly schemes that are not to be continued beyond the previous year, should not be included for BY 2009-10. In all other cases the items are arranged by major head codes and are comparable. However, since it is easy to know the schemes which are to be discontinued, we have given the answer “a” for this question.

Comment:
The first document provides the aggregate figures. In the second citation ministry-wise figures are available in Sections B & C of the of the expenditure budget of each ministry. For example, sections B & C of the expenditure budget of Department of Telecommunications, are available at:

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: I have not found any documentation that confirms that the term “outlay” is synonymous with “extra-budgetary” funds in India.

Researcher Response: I agree with the reviewer that the term “outlay” is not synonymous with “extra-budgetary” funds. Actually, both the documents cited above provide information on the Internal and Extra Budgetary Resources (IEBR), which are part of the total Plan Outlay for different Ministries/Departments of the Union Government. These resources (IEBR) refer to the investments made by Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs) in accordance with the Plan objectives/goals of the Union Government. So, I think the answer “b” should remain unchanged.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” based on the researcher’s citation and comment.

   Comment:
   The budget presents information regarding transfers (both as loans and grants) to state governments. However, in India, the governance structure is three tiered. While extensive information on intergovernmental transfers to State governments are provided in the budget documents, detailed information on flows to panchayat bodies is provided in the state budgets.

| Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year on quasi-fiscal activities? | a. Yes, extensive information on quasi-fiscal activities is presented, including both a narrative discussion and, where possible, quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key quasi-fiscal activities, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on quasi-fiscal activities is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment). |
| Citation: | Comment: |
| Though a number of quasi-fiscal activities are undertaken in the year by government financial institutions, these are not reflected in the budget documents explicitly. Section C of the expenditure budget of different ministries/departments (http://www.indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/eb/vol2.htm) gives some information. |
| Researcher Response to this Question was “c” |
| Peer Reviewer One Comment: | Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Section C referred to above has information on plan and non-plan outlays for each ministry/department. This does not refer to quasi-fiscal activities. A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.” |
| Researcher Response: | A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” Firstly, the budget documents clearly specify the Ministry/Department wise Internal and Extra Budgetary Resources (IEBR), which are investments made by Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs) in accordance with the Plan objectives/goals of the Union Government. Secondly, the fiscal transfers to financial institutions for specified quasi-fiscal activities are also captured in Demand No. 33 “Department of Financial Services,” see http://indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/eb/sbe33.pdf. Even the below-the-line bond issuances (oil/fertilizer/food bonds) are reflected in the budget documents (though not included at present in fiscal deficit computations). One important aspect is that the budget documents do not fully capture the fiscal implications and contingent liabilities arising from such quasi-fiscal activities. |

Comment:
Financial Assets of the Union Government comprise of revenue receipts, capital receipts and public account receipts. Extensive information on these are provided in the budget documents in the annual financial statement.

Further, extensive information on government assets both financial and non financial assets are provided in some other documents other than the executive's budget proposal. For more details please visit <http://finmin.nic.in/reports/ipfstat/IPFStat200809.pdf> and Controller & Auditor General’s report.

Researcher Response to this Question was “a”

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: The information provided in the two citations is very general and mostly focuses on receipts from funds. There is no information on stocks or bonds, property, land, etc. their past earnings or current market value. A more appropriate response to this question would be “c.”

Researcher Response: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” A statement of Assets is presented as part of the Receipts Budget [Annex 3 (ii)] (see http://indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/rec/annex3.pdf) which includes loans advanced by the Government and investments made during the year. However the current market valuation of investments in public sector undertakings, etc. is not being captured in the budget documents.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” based on the researcher’s comment and citation.
40. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present information on non-financial assets held by the government?

   a. Yes, extensive information on non-financial assets is presented, including a listing of the assets, and (where possible) an estimate of their market value.

   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key information, but some details are excluded.

   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.

   d. No, information on non-financial assets is not presented.

   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Peer Reviewer One Comment:

   Peer Reviewer Two Comment: The Annual Financial Statement 2009-10. Statement 1, Consolidated Fund of India, Revenue Account – Receipts, Page 1 has some information on non-financial assets. But there is no discussion on this and no details. A more appropriate response to this question would be “c.”

   Researcher Response: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” A statement on non-financial assets held by the government is presented as part of the Receipts Budget [Annex 3 (iv), Page # 31] (see http://indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/rec/annex3.pdf). However, this statement does not include the assets of Cabinet Secretariat, Central Police Organizations, Ministry of Defense and Departments of Space and Atomic Energy.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” based on the researcher’s citation and comment.
41. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year on expenditure arrears?

   a. Yes, extensive information on expenditure arrears is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key expenditure arrears, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on expenditure arrears is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation:

Comment: Response “e” would be more relevant as India does not practice a multi-year budgeting system. Apart from the non lapsable funds essentially meant for capital asset creation, expenditure arrears are not an issue, as expenditures are settled on a year to year basis (there is no double entry book keeping) and the finances are closed on 31st of March every year.

Peer Reviewer One Comment: “e” is an appropriate response. All arrears are carried forth to the next FY on 01 April.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: India follows a balanced budget principle and does not allow expenditure arrears. Unused expenditures cannot be carried forward, and debt financing is used to balance the budget. Therefore “e” is an appropriate response to this question.
42. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information on contingent liabilities (such as government loan guarantees)?

   a. Yes, extensive information on contingent liabilities is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key contingent liabilities, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on contingent liabilities is not presented.

Comment:

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Citation: Receipts Budget 2009-10, Statement of Revenue Foregone under the Central Tax System: Financial Years 2007-08 and 2008-09, Annex 12, Page 45. The budget does not provide information on tax expenditures for the budget year. Information is provided for BY-1 and BY-2. Thus a more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

Researcher Response: I agree with the reviewer that the Revenue Foregone statement is presented only for BY-1 and BY-2 years and not for the budget year. However, supporting documents such as the FM’s budget speech (http://indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/bs/speecha.htm Section # 88, 93, 101, 107, 109, 120 etc.) and the Explanatory Memorandum (of Finance Bill) provide elaborate narrative discussion on the tax exemptions proposed during the budget year. So, I think an appropriate response to this question would be “b.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” based on the researcher’s citation and comment.
46. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation identify all earmarked revenues?

   a. All earmarked revenues are identified individually.
   b. At least two-thirds of, but not all, earmarked revenues are identified individually.
   c. Less than two-thirds of earmarked revenues are identified individually.
   d. No earmarked revenues are identified individually.

Comment:
For example “education cess” which is earmarked revenue meant for universalisation of elementary and secondary education is collected as a proportion of all taxes. This is explicitly mentioned in the "Receipts Budget" which is a supporting budget document.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:
47. What percentage of expenditure in the budget year is dedicated to spending on secret items relating to, for instance, national security and military intelligence?

a. One percent or less of expenditure is dedicated to secret items.
b. Three percent or less, but more than one percent, of expenditure is dedicated to secret items.
c. Eight percent or less, but more than three percent, of expenditure is dedicated to secret items.
d. More than eight percent of expenditure is dedicated to secret items, or the percentage is not available to the public.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation:

Comment:
Expenditure on National Security / Defense Expenditure is roughly around 14.5% of the Union Budget expenditure. However, military intelligence expenses are not presented in the budget. During discussion with a few members of Parliament, we were informed that the expenditure on secret items related to national security and military intelligence is not revealed even to the legislators. However, according to them, the figure is around 8 percent of the total budget.

A report by the Federation of American Scientists (FSA) estimated the total budget of Research and Analysis Wing (RAW), which is India's foreign intelligence agency, to be Rs. 1500 crore in 2002 (or around 0.4% of budget in 2002-03) <http://www.fas.org/irp/world/india/raw/index.html>.

Another report <http://www.martinfrost.ws/htmlfiles/raw1.html> states that the annual budget of Research and Analysis Wing (RAW) varies wildly between USD 16 Million a year to USD 145 million a year. In 1947, India had only two intelligence agencies: the Intelligence Bureau (IB) and Military Intelligence (MI). In 2007, it had eight such agencies: the IB, the Directorate-General of Security, the RAW, the Directorates-General of Military Intelligence, Air Intelligence, Naval Intelligence, the Defense Intelligence Agency and the National Technical Research Organisation.<http://www.indiatogether.org/2007/oct/rvw-rawraman.htm>

Organizations other than RAW spend less than what RAW spends. However, as per the discussion with experts on Public Finance issues in Human Rights, it is possible to draw some broad understanding and make some crude estimates on the expenditure by these agencies.

Comment:
The Budget Speech, Budget Highlights and the Expenditure Budget Vol. I present the link between the proposed budget and stated policy goals. A few policy announcements such as those related to fiscal issues like deficits provide substantial information.

The presentation [or practice] is similar to that in the previous period, but researcher reassessment has led to a change in the response.

Peer Reviewer One Comment: “b” is an appropriate response on account of such linkages being explained only for a few areas and only for a few units of the government. Often, it is presumed that the financial allocation explains the policy objective but it does not have efficacy sine no rationale is provided.

After implementation of the FRBM Act, rolling targets for fiscal indicators are being set.

The presentation [or practice] is similar to that in the previous period, but researcher reassessment has led to a change in the response.

Peer Reviewer One Comment: I agree. However, while rolling targets for fiscal indicators are emerging, it is difficult to consider them as a part of the budget exercise. They are more like a bridle on the executive functioning rather than legislative interventions towards multi-year policy goals.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Yes, some information is presented with respect to fiscal goals for two years beyond the current budget.

Comment:
Implementation of Budget Announcements provides these types of data. Information is presented for very few programs, especially in Expenditure Budget Volume-II (for certain departments under social and economic services) and the Budget Speech. Data including the number of beneficiaries is provided in the Outcome Budget, Performance Budget and Annual Report of the respective ministries. But the Performance Budget and Annual Reports are not budget documents.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Citation: (1) This does not provide information on the number of beneficiaries. It shows budget allocations for different labor categories such as labor welfare funds, social security, etc. (2) This citation also shows budget allocations for different rural development programs. Some limited information is provided on the percentage breakup between beneficiaries, for example between women, children, and SC/ST.

Researcher Response: Some limited information is provided in the cited documents. Apart from that some data on the number of beneficiaries is available in the Budget Speech (see section 46, 48, 52 etc). The answer should be “c.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “c” based on the researcher’s citation and comment.
51. Are the non-financial data presented useful for assessing how an expenditure program is performing?

a. The non-financial data are very useful for assessing program performance.
b. The non-financial data are mostly useful for assessing program performance.
c. The non-financial data are somewhat useful for assessing program performance.
d. No non-financial data are provided or they are not useful for assessing program performance.

Comment:
Data in the cited documents are mostly useful.

Annual Reports of different Ministries gives non-financial data that are useful for assessing programs.

Researcher Response to this Question was “b”

Peer Reviewer One Comment: I agree. However, a more complete explanation of the “Vote on Account” or Interim Budget pending a full post-election budget is needed to contextualize this assessment. Besides, extensive performance data is reported by respective departments and ministries but all these documents are not sent to the legislature as part of the budget.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: “c” is an appropriate Citation: Ministry of State for Finance, Budget 2008-2009, Position reported on January 15, 2009. This document does not provide any information on program/department goals, objectives, and performance indicators. However, there is some information regarding inputs (costs), coverage, and targets.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “c” based on the researcher’s citation and comment.

Researcher Response to this Question was “c”

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: See comment for question 51. There is wide variance in the quality of information provided in the Outcome Budgets of the various Ministries. Examination of the outcome budgets of the Ministry of Shipping, Ministry of Culture, and Ministry of Food Processing Industries show some discussion of goals/objectives, but no listing of performance indicators. Tables include outcome and output statements, and mostly output, not outcome indicators.

Researcher Response: I agree with the reviewer’s opinion in this regard; I think “d” is an appropriate answer.
53. Are the performance indicators sufficiently well designed, such that one can assess whether there has been progress toward meeting policy goals?

- a. All performance indicators are well designed.
- b. Most performance indicators are well designed.
- c. Some performance indicators are well designed, but most are not.
- d. No programs have performance indicators, or they are not well designed.
- e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: See comment for questions 51 and 52. In addition there is no baseline information or target and actual information for output indicators. Most indicators listed are not measurable. “D” is an appropriate response because the indicators are not well designed.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “d” since performance indicators are not well designed.
54. Are performance indicators used in conjunction with performance targets presented in the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation?

   a. All performance indicators are used in conjunction with performance targets.
   b. Most performance indicators are used in conjunction with performance targets.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: The Medium-Term Fiscal Policy Statement 2009-10 provides targets for two years beyond the current budget year. This is only for four key fiscal indicators.

55. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information on policies (both proposals and existing commitments) in at least the budget year that are intended to benefit directly the country’s most impoverished populations?

Outcome budgets are made public within 3/4 months after the budget presentation. These provide very handy non-financial information related to the current year's budget expenditures. Many programmes have their own websites that provide non financial information.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: India does not have program budgets thus there is no information provided on the staff employed by the program, number of beneficiaries, etc. The outcome budget provides some information on policy objectives and output indicators, but outcome indicators are lacking. However, due to the Right To Information Act citizens could request and get disaggregated data for individual programs.
Section Three: The Budget Process
The Budget Process

Executive’s Formulation of the Budget

66. How far in advance of the release of the budget is the day of its release known?

- a. The release date is set in permanent law.
- b. The executive announces the release date at least two months in advance.
- c. The executive announces the release date less than two months but more than two weeks in advance.
- d. The executive announces the release date two weeks or less before the release, or makes no announcement.
- e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comment:
Although presentation of the budget date is not fixed by a law, conventionally, in India, the budget is presented on the last date of February (i.e. 28th or 29th). However, it might be changed in some special circumstances including the election, sudden fall of the ruling government etc. In these circumstances, a Vote on Account is presented in February followed by a full budget later in the year when the new government has taken office. So, the budget presentation date of any year is known to public even years before.
So, “a” should be the appropriate answer although the date is not fixed by a law.

The presentation [or practice] is similar to that in the previous period, but researcher reassessment has led to a change in the response.

   a. Yes, a detailed timetable is released to the public.
   b. Yes, a timetable is released, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, a timetable is released, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, a timetable is not issued to the public.

The closing dates are mandatory for each department.

Peer Reviewer One Comment: I agree. Apart from closing dates being mandatory, if the budget schedule is not followed by the executive, the executive does not have any legal basis to charge expenditure to the Consolidated Fund of India after the last date of the financial year (March 31) has passed. This ensures the executive’s interest to present the budget to the Parliament on time each year.

The executive holds consultations with the standing committee members of the finance ministry. However, broad sectoral priorities are set by the Five Year Plans and the Annual Plans as suggested by the Planning Commission and the Finance Commission. Many underlying assumptions are made and broad priorities are set by the Budget Division in the Finance Ministry, and different financial committees of the parliament like (a) Estimates Committee, (b) the Public Accounts Committee and (c) the Public Undertakings Committee.

Researcher Response to this Question was “c”

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response would be “b” as relevant committees of the Parliament are consulted.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

Researcher Response: The FM usually seeks specific inputs from the Consultative Committee in a meeting convened for this purpose. A wide range of legislators also send in their inputs in the form of written VIP references which provide significant inputs for the budget particularly with respect to revenue proposals. Some key Ministers also personally meet with the FM for discussing their budget related suggestions. This is why I agree with peer reviewer one, and the answer must be changed to “b.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” based on the researcher’s response.

However, different ministries send their demands to the budget division of the Finance Ministry which compiles these demands to formulate the budget that is presented as a proposal on the last day of the month of February. Individual ministries however invite pre budget statements from line departments and other agencies.

Comment:
These are the Finance Committee Reports of the 14th Lok Sabha. The reports of the newly formed 15th Lok Sabha are yet to be made public.

However, previous reports show that the meetings (not hearings) refer to macroeconomic and fiscal policy issues though they are not very focused.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: India formed 17 departmentally related standing committees in April 1993. These committees (i) consider the demands for grants (ii) examine bills referred to them by the Chairman, Rajya Sabha, Speaker, or Lok Sabha (iii) consider annual reports, and (iv) consider national long term policy documents presented to the committee. The question hour in the Lok Sabha is open to the public and press. Therefore “c” is the correct response to this question.

80. Does the legislature have authority in law to amend the budget presented by the executive?

a. Yes, the legislature has unlimited authority in law to amend the budget.
b. Yes, the legislature has authority in law to amend the budget, with some limitations.
c. Yes, the legislature has authority in law to amend the budget, but its authority is very limited.
d. No, the legislature does not have any authority in law to amend the budget.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation:

Comment:
The legislature, by virtue of the Constitution of India, has not been empowered to play a significant role in the amendment procedure of the budget presented by the executive. It has only fourteen days to discuss and deliberate upon the broad contours of the budget.

For more details, please see the text of the Article 113 of the Indian Constitution below for expenditure matters and the text of Articles 109 and 110 as regards to the Finance Bill.

http://india.gov.in/govt/constitutions_india.php
Article 113 Procedure in Parliament with respect to estimates:

1. So much of the estimates as relates to expenditure charged upon the Consolidated Fund of India shall not be submitted to the vote of Parliament, but nothing in this clause shall be construed as preventing the discussion in either House of Parliament of any of those estimates.
2. So much of the said estimates as relates to other expenditure shall be submitted in the form of demands for grants to the House of the People, and the House of the People shall have power to assent, or to refuse to assent, to any demand, or to assent to any demand subject to a reduction the amount specified therein.
3. No demand for a grant shall be made except on the recommendation of the President.

Reseacher Response to this Question was “b”

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “a” as the only sections of the budget that cannot be amended relate to expenditures “charged” to the Consolidated Fund of India under Article 113 (3). Article 113(2) cited above by the researcher makes it clear that the House of the People can make amendments to the budget proposed. Only expenditures chargeable to the Consolidated Fund of India but which cannot be amended by the Parliament under Article 114(2) are those relating to constitutional functionaries, but “nothing ... shall be construed as preventing the discussion in either House of Parliament of any of those estimates” (Article 113 (1)). This scheme ensures that constitutional functionaries/ bodies such as the President, the Supreme Court of India, the Union Public Service Commission, the High Courts, the Election Commission, etc are not beholden to the executive or legislature for meeting their expenses and can therefore, function impartially; and not to limit the legislature’s powers to amend the budget.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Based on the above citation the legislature has the authority by law only to amend, refuse, or accept a demand for grant from the various ministries. A more appropriate response to this question would be “c.”

Researcher Response: I agree with the peer reviewer one. The answer should be changed to “a.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” since there are some limitations on the legislature’s authority to amend the budget.
What is the most detail provided in the appropriation (expenditure budget) approved by the legislature?

a. The approved budget includes program-level detail.
b. The approved budget includes departmental totals and some additional details (for instance, sub-department totals or major programs).
c. The approved budget includes only departmental totals.
d. The approved budget includes less information than departmental totals or the approved budget is not released to the public.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation:

Comment:
In practice, apart from some minor revenue (taxes and fees) proposals, the entire budget is approved by the legislature in the same format as the executive’s budget proposal, i.e., programme level details provided in the budget proposal are also approved simultaneously.

Researcher Response to this Question was “a”

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: India does not prepare program (and sub-program) budgets. Information is provided mostly for departments and in some cases sub-departments or major programs. A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.”

Researcher Response: In the Expenditure Budget Vol. 2, under every demand of the individual Ministry/Departments, programme level data are available. For an instance, in the demand of the Department of Rural Development (http://indiabudget.nic.in/ub2009-10/eb/sbe80.pdf) programme level details are available. This data is presented in the Parliament and it is mandatory that it be approved in the Parliament. So, I think “a” should be the correct answer.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “a” based on the researcher’s response and comment.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: The cited monthly accounts of the Union Government are prepared by the Controller General of Accounts. The monthly accounts for December 2009 are already available. However, given that there are delays in publication, a more appropriate response to this question would be “b.”

Researcher Response: In practice, the report for a month is usually released by the CGA on its website cga.nic.in on the last working day of the subsequent month. There might be some delay in case of unusual circumstances. Otherwise, it is released regularly. So, I think “a” is the most appropriate answer.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “a” based on the researcher’s response and comment.

96. Does the executive seek input from the legislature when the executive shifts funds between administrative units (except when the amounts are below a certain minimal level specified in law or regulation)?

a. Yes, the executive seeks approval from the legislature before shifting funds between administrative units.
b. Yes, the executive gives prior notification to the legislature before shifting funds, giving the legislature an opportunity to block or modify the proposed adjustment.
c. Yes, the executive seeks legislative approval, but only after the shift of funds has been implemented.
d. No, the executive shifts funds between administrative units without seeking input from the legislature, or the amount allowed under the law or by regulation is significantly large enough to undermine public scrutiny and accountability (please describe arrangements below).
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comment:
Before presenting final budget in Parliament, the budget is only discussed and approved by the executives (Council of Ministers). In practice, any sort of diversion of funds from one administrative unit to other is decided by the Council of Ministers and the decision regarding diversion of funds has nothing to do with the legislature. However, in case of emergencies, the government draws resources from the contingency fund and in the subsequent legislative session, the government seeks legislative approval for refunding the contingency fund from the consolidated fund to the extent that resources were drawn from the fund.

The presentation [or practice] is similar to that in the previous period, but researcher reassessment has led to a change in the response.

Researcher Response to this Question was “d”

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b” as reallocation between departments after the budget has been approved requires legislative approval, which is often obtained in the form of supplementary demands. In addition to this, the executive can draw upon the Contingent Fund of India for meeting emergency expenditures without prior parliamentary approval.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

Researcher Response: I completely agree with the reviewer. The answer should be changed to “b.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “c” because the Excess Demand for Grants are presented before Parliament after the Government has incurred any expenditure which is in excess of the amount authorized in the original Budget after the financial year has ended.
97. During the past year, have there been credible reported instances in which the procurement of goods and services has not followed an open and competitive process in practice?

b. The procurement of goods and services frequently followed an open and competitive process in practice, but there were some reported instances of irregularities.
c. The procurement of goods and service followed an open and competitive process in many instances, but there were significant reported examples of irregularities.

98. When does the legislature typically approve supplemental budgets?

a. Supplemental budgets are approved before the funds are expended, or the executive rarely proposes a supplemental budget (please specify).
b. Supplemental budgets are approved after the funds are expended, or the executive implements supplemental budgets without ever receiving approval from the legislature (please specify).
c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comment:
In the interview with MPs, we were informed that except the case of emergency, supplemental budgets are approved before the funds are expended.

In the constitution, the rules for supplemental budgets are as follows: Supplemental budgets are presented and approved in the following cases:
1. If the executive does not have a full financial year in its term;
2. If the executive announces new fiscal plans in the middle of a budget year; or
3. In case of emergencies.

Article 115 of the Constitution of India relating to supplementary grants states that: “115. Supplementary, additional or excess grants.—
(1) The President shall— (a) if the amount authorized by any law made in accordance with the provisions of article 114 to be expended for a particular service for the current financial year is found to be insufficient for the purposes of that year or when a need has arisen during the current financial year for supplementary or additional expenditure upon some new service not contemplated in the annual financial statement for that year, or (b) if any money has been spent on any service during a financial year in excess of the amount granted for that service and for that year, cause to be laid before both the Houses of Parliament another statement showing the estimated amount of that expenditure or cause to be presented to the House of the People a demand for such excess, as the case may be.
(2) The provisions of articles 112, 113 and 114 shall have effect in relation to any such statement and expenditure or demand and also to any law to be made authorizing the appropriation of moneys out of the Consolidated Fund of India to meet such expenditure or the grant in respect of such demand as they have effect in relation to the annual financial statement and the expenditure mentioned therein or to a demand for a grant and the law to be made for the authorization of appropriation of moneys out of the Consolidated Fund of India to meet such expenditure or grant.”

99. In most years, how large are supplemental budget requests relative to the size of the original budget?

   a. Supplemental budgets are generally equal to 2 percent or less of the original budget.

   c. Supplemental budget are generally equal to more than 5 percent, but less than 10 percent, of the original budget.

Supplementary Demand for Grants 2009-10

Comment:
The above citation is the notification of the First Supplementary Demands for Grants, which will be tabled in the forthcoming Winter Session of the Parliament. So, for the year 2009-10, it is still not possible to calculate the amount of the Supplementary Budget.

However, if we consider the Financial Year 2008-09, there were three Supplementary Demands for Grants for the Budget 2008-09, and together these accounted for around 21.2 percent of the original budget proposed in 2008-09.

The Comptroller and Auditor-General of India (CAG) Report (Civil) 2007 (See page 145) shows that the share of supplementary budget was 27%, 28% and 44% of the respective original budgets during three consecutive years preceding 2006-07.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:
100. When does the legislature approve the expenditure of contingency funds or other funds for which no specific purpose was identified in the budget?

a. Expenditures are approved before the funds are expended, or contingency funds or other funds with no specific purposes are not included in the budget.
b. Expenditures are approved after the funds are expended, but before the end of the fiscal year.
c. Expenditures are approved after the end of the fiscal year, for example in the next budget.
d. Such expenditure takes place without legislative approval.

Comment:
Expenditures are approved after the funds are expended, but before the end of the fiscal year.

Refer to Arts. 267 of the Indian Constitution, which states that:
"Contingency Fund — (1) Parliament may by law establish a Contingency Fund in the nature of an imprest to be entitled “the Contingency Fund of India” into which shall be paid from time to time such sums as may be determined by such law, and the said Fund shall be placed at the disposal of the President to enable advances to be made by him out of such Fund for the purposes of meeting unforeseen expenditure pending authorisation of such expenditure by Parliament by law under article 115 or article 116.”

Researcher Response to this Question was “b”

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: According to the above citation the President can acquire funds from the Contingency Fund pending authorization of such expenditure by the Parliament. This implies that expenditures have to be approved before the funds are expended. A more appropriate response to this question would be “a.”

Researcher Response: The size of the Contingency Fund of India is only Rs. 500 crore (which is very small compared to the size of the budget) and the Rules for drawing down the Contingency Fund clearly indicate that the Fund shall be used as an imprest for “contingencies” not envisaged in the Parliamentary authorization (e.g. court decrees, calamities, etc.). However, expenditures from the Contingency Fund of India are approved after the funds are expended, but before the end of the fiscal year. This amount is recouped in the next Supplementary Demand for Grants wherein the underlying expenditure is also ratified. I think a more appropriate answer would be “b.”

IBP Response: IBP chose response “b” as per the researcher’s comment.

Comment:
During discussion with a senior official from Indian Audit & Accounts Service, we were informed that an extensive explanation of the differences between enacted levels and the actual outcome for expenditures is presented.

The report by the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG) also presents information on differences between enacted and actual expenditures. But this is an audit report.

Researcher Response to this Question was “a”

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Detailed quantitative explanations are not provided. The outcome budget also focuses primarily on outputs rather than outcomes. A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.”

Researcher Response: Please see chapter 8 of the following document (page # 118-119 and 125-126). Union Audit Reports (Accounts of the Union Government) (Compliance Audit - Report No. 13 of 2009) 2007-08 http://www.cag.gov.in/html/reports/civil/2007-08_CA13_civil/contents.htm It provides some explanation of the difference between the enacted levels (including in-year changes approved by the legislature) and the actual outcome for expenditures. So, I think this citation must be added. And I agree with the reviewer that the answer should be changed to “b.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” as per the researcher’s comment.
104. What level of detail is the focus of the explanation of the differences between the enacted levels and the actual outcome for expenditures presented in the year-end report?

   a. The explanation of the differences between the enacted expenditure levels and the actual outcome focuses on the program level.
   b. The explanation focuses on departmental totals (or functional totals) or some lower level of detail (but not the program level in all cases).
   c. The explanation focuses on a higher level of aggregation than departmental totals (or functional totals).

Comment:
In consultation with a senior official from Indian Audit & Accounts Service, we were informed that the explanation of the differences between the enacted expenditure levels and the actual outcome focuses on the program level.

Information in this regard is also available in the cited document.

Researcher Response to this Question was “a”

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Explanations are provided for departments not programs. A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.”

Researcher Response: The above cited document provides Ministry/department-wise information. Program level information for any Ministry or Department is also available (see for example http://cga.nic.in/appn_accounts/appn_accounts0708/Grant1.pdf under the above citation). Also, please refer to chapter 8 of the following document (page # 125-126). Union Audit Reports (Accounts of the Union Government) (Compliance Audit - Report No. 13 of 2009) 2007-08 http://www.cag.gov.in/html/reports/civil/2007-08_CA13_civil/contents.htm. It provides some explanation of the difference between the enacted levels (including in-year changes approved by the legislature) and the actual outcome for expenditures of programme level. So, I think these two documents give some information. I agree with the reviewer that the answer should be changed to “b.”

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response “b” as per the researcher’s comment.
105. Does the year-end report explain the difference between the enacted levels (including in-year changes approved by the legislature) and the actual outcome for revenues?

   a. Yes, an extensive explanation of the differences is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, an explanation is presented, highlighting key differences, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some explanation is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, an explanation is not presented, or such a report is not released.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comment:
This Finance Account (a year end report), released by the Controller General of Accounts, Ministry of Finance, provides extensive information regarding the difference between the enacted levels and the actual outcome for revenues.

The Supreme Audit Institution also presents detailed narratives regarding the Central Government Accounts, but these are included in audit reports.

106. Does the year-end report explain the difference between the original macroeconomic forecast for the fiscal year and the actual outcome for that year?

   b. Yes, an explanation is presented, highlighting key differences, but some details are excluded.

Comment:
As the Economic Survey presents the overall economic performances of the previous year and is released at the end of the fiscal year, in the broader sense, it could be considered as a Year-end report. This report provides some explanation regarding the difference between the original macroeconomic forecast for the fiscal year and the actual outcome for that year. So, in my consideration, "c" is the most appropriate answer.

The presentation [or practice] is similar to that in the previous period, but researcher reassessment has led to a change in the response.

107. Does the year-end report explain the difference between the original estimates of non-financial data and the actual outcome?

   a. Yes, an extensive explanation of the differences is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, an explanation is presented, highlighting key differences, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some explanation is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, an explanation is not presented, or such a report is not released.

All reports have either an executive summary, an overview of the report or a 'highlights' section in all its reports.

Peer Reviewer One Comment:

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: Citation: (1) The CAG compliance / regularity reports have overviews; the performance audits have executive summaries. (2) The CGA Union Government Appropriation Accounts (Civil) 2007-2008 does not include an executive summary, it has a summary table. The CGA Union Government Finance Accounts 2007-2008 has an introductory statement, but it is more of a glossary with explanation of the different heads of accounts, definition etc. It is not a summary of findings. Only the Accounts at a Glance 2007-2008 has an overview. I would keep only the first citation for the Comptroller and Auditor General.
114. Must a branch of government other than the executive (such as the legislature or the judiciary) give final consent before the head of the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) can be removed from office?

a. Yes, the head of the SAI may only be removed by the legislature or judiciary, or the legislature or judiciary must give final consent before they are removed.
b. No, the executive may remove the head of the SAI without the final consent of the judiciary or legislature.
c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comment:
In consultation with a senior official from Indian Audit & Accounts Service, we were informed that the only way to remove the head of the Supreme Audit Institution is "impeachment" and for this 2/3rd majority among the legislatures is necessary. So, “a” is the correct answer here.

More detailed information are available in the following sites:

The Constitution of India
http://www.legalserviceindia.com/constitution/const_india.htm

Article 148 (see page no. 73 of the first citation) says: "Comptroller and Auditor General of India.—(1) There shall be a Comptroller and Auditor-General of India who shall be appointed by the President by warrant under his hand and seal, and shall only be removed from the office in like manner and on the like grounds as a Judge of the Supreme Court.” Further, Article 124 (4) provides that procedure for removal of a Supreme Court judge as follows: “A Judge of the Supreme Court shall not be removed from his office except by an order of the President passed after an address by each House of Parliament supported by a majority of the total membership of that House and by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members of that House present and voting has been presented to the President in the same session for such removal on the ground of proved misbehavior or incapacity.”

Comment:
A senior official from Indian Audit & Accounts Service informed us that SAI release to the public audits of extra-budgetary funds.

For an example, see the above citations.
Extra budgetary funds include the National Small Savings Fund, Steel Development Fund (which is an industry-wide loan scheme that operates on commercial principles), and the Prime Minister's Relief Fund (which finances disaster relief from public donations). All expenditures of the government are audited and released except audit reports on secret items of expenditure, which are generally not released to public. However, with the passage of the Right to Information law, this information can be accessed upon request.

Comment:
A senior official from Indian Audit & Accounts Service informed us that the budget of SAI is a “charged expenditure.” So, it is determined by the executive and consistent with the needs of SAI.

For more details, see:
The Constitution of India
Please refer to Article 148 of the Indian Constitution (see page 73 of the cited document).

According to article 148 of the Constitution of India, administrative expenditure by the SAI will be charged to the consolidated fund of the executive’s budget.

Researcher Response to this Question was “b”

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “a” as Article 148 (6) provides that “The administrative expenses of the office of the Comptroller and Auditor-General, including all salaries, allowances and pensions payable to or in respect of the persons serving in that office, shall be charged upon the Consolidated Fund of India” and are therefore not voted upon in the Parliament.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

Researcher Response: Since the expenditure incurred for the SAI is a “Charged” expenditure, it cannot be voted upon by the legislature.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “b” consistent with the researcher’s response.
118. Does the Supreme Audit Institution employ designated staff for undertaking audits of the central government agencies pertaining to the security sector (military, police, intelligence services)?

a. The SAI employs designated staff, and the staffing levels are broadly consistent with the resources the SAI needs to fulfill its mandate.
b. The SAI employs designated staff, but the staffing levels are a cause of some constraints to the SAI in fulfilling its mandate.
c. The SAI employs designated staff, but the staffing levels pose a significant constraint on the SAI in fulfilling its mandate.

Comment:
In response to the recommendations made by the Parliamentary Committee(s), the Government releases Action Taken Reports, which are presented in Parliament. Subsequently, the relevant Parliamentary Committees assess these Action Taken Reports and release another set of reports in which they comment on the actions taken by the Government.

Indian Parliament has been disclosing such information through their website since 2006-07. They have also been making efforts to post older reports on their website as well.

However, it has been observed that often the nature of corrective action taken by the Government is not satisfactory.

For example, action taken on the 9th report of the PAC <http://164.100.24.207/committeereports/Public%20Accounts/9threp.pdf> containing recommendations of the CAG was presented by the PAC in its 52nd report <http://164.100.24.207/committeereports/Public%20Accounts/14ls52ndreport.pdf>

So as far as information is concerned, it is provided. But the PAC itself is highly critical on the quality of action taken.
