Section Two: The Executive’s Budget Proposal

Notes on abbreviations:
BY = budget year (year for which the budget proposals are being made)
BY+1 = one year beyond the budget year
BY-1 = one year before the budget year
The Executive’s Budget Proposal
Estimates for the Budget Year and Beyond

1. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by administrative unit (that is, by ministry, department, or agency)?

   a. All expenditures are classified by administrative unit.
   b. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit, but some small units are not shown separately.
   c. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit, but a significant number of units are not shown separately.
   d. No expenditures classified by administrative unit are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: 88 percent (110 departments with a budget of around 3,759.9 billion Roubles) of the expenditures are classified by administrative unit (by various ministries, committees, services, agencies, and centers) in the budget for 2006 in the Appendix 10 “the departmental structure of charges of the federal budget for 2006.” Other expenditures are classified in Appendices 11 (top secret) and 12 (confidential) and are not available to the public.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

2. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by functional classification?

   a. All expenditures are classified by functional classification, and the categorization is compatible with international standards.
   b. All expenditures are classified by functional classification, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards.
   c. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by function.
   d. No expenditures classified by function are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: All expenditures are classified by functional classification in the 2006 budget; refer to Appendix 8: “Distribution of charges of the federal budget on sections and sub-items of functional classification.”

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
3. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by economic classification?

   a. All expenditures are classified by economic classification, and the categorization is compatible with international standards.
   b. All expenditures are classified by economic classification, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards.
   c. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by economic classification.
   d. No expenditures classified by economic classification are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “c.” The table “Economic structure of charges on separate sections and sub-items of economic classification” is presented in the supporting budget documentation. It is not accessible on the Internet.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: “C” is the correct answer.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.” Actually, expenditures are classified by economic classification. It is not compatible with international standards and this information is not disseminated to the public.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.
4. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for individual programs for the budget year?

a. Program-level data are presented for all expenditures.
b. Program-level data are presented for at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures.
c. Program-level data are presented, but for less than two-thirds of expenditures.
d. No program-level data are presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” According to the budget classification of the Russian Federation, charges are represented by section, sub-item, and target article (a kind of expenditure). Refer to Appendices 10 and 39 of the 2006 budget.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: Annex 54 lists expenditures for all federal target programs (called also earmarked programs). Program funding comprises 363 601 970,4 thousand Rubles, or about 8/5% of the total budget expenditures (equal to 4 270 114 718,3 Rubles). Therefore, if I understand the question correctly, program-level data are present for less than two thirds of expenditures and the correct answer should be “c.” However, if by the term ‘program’ you mean ‘type of expenditure’ as it is interpreted by the primary respondent, then a is the correct answer.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “a” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

5. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, are estimates of the aggregate level of expenditure presented for a multi-year period (at least two years beyond the budget year)?

a. Yes, multi-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are presented.
b. No, multi-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are not presented.
c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: Multi-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are presented in the Perspective Financial Plan of the Russian Federation for 2006-2008. Refer to Appendix 1.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
6. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, is more detail than just the aggregate level presented for expenditure estimates that cover a multi-year period (for at least two years beyond the budget year)?

   a. Yes, multi-year expenditure estimates are presented for all individual programs, and for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative).
   b. Yes, multi-year estimates are presented for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative), but only for some individual programs.
   c. Yes, multi-year estimates are presented, but only for a portion of one or more of the expenditure classifications (such as some functions, or some administrative units) and/or for only some individual programs.
   d. No, multi-year estimates are presented for aggregate expenditure only, or they are not presented at all.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: Multi-year expenditure estimates classified by function are presented in the Perspective Financial Plan of the Russian Federation for 2006 – 2008. Refer to Appendix 5.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

7. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation identify the different sources of tax revenue (such as income tax or VAT) for the budget year?

   a. All sources of tax revenue are identified individually.
   b. Sources of tax revenue amounting to at least two-thirds of, but not all, tax revenues are identified individually.
   c. Sources of tax revenue amounting to less than two-thirds of all tax revenues are identified individually.
   d. No sources of tax revenue are identified individually.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: All sources of tax revenue are identified individually in the 2006 budget. Refer to Appendix 7 “Receipts of incomes in the federal budget.”

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
8. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation identify the different sources of non-tax revenue (such as grants, property income, and sales of goods and services) for the budget year?

   a. All sources of non-tax revenue are identified individually.
   b. Sources of non-tax revenue amounting to at least two-thirds of, but not all, non-tax revenues are identified individually.
   c. Sources of non-tax revenues amounting to less than two-thirds of all non-tax revenue are identified individually.
   d. No sources of non-tax revenues are identified individually.

   Citation and/or comment: Most sources of non-tax revenue are identified individually in the 2006 budget. Refer to Appendix 7 “Receipts of incomes in the federal budget.”

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: Property income, sales of services, administrative charges and other non-tax income sources are listed in Annex 7 to the executive budget, but some sources are presented as ‘other’, so the answer “b” is correct.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

9. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, are estimates of the aggregate level of revenue presented for a multi-year period (at least two years beyond the budget year)?

   a. Yes, multi-year estimates of aggregate revenue are presented.
   b. No, multi-year estimates of aggregate revenue are not presented.
   c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: Multi-year estimates of aggregate revenue are presented in the Perspective Financial Plan of the Russian Federation for 2006 – 2008. Refer to Appendix 1.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
10. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, is more detail than just the aggregate level presented for revenue estimates that cover a multi-year period (for at least two years beyond the budget year)?

   a. Yes, multi-year revenue estimates are presented for individual sources of revenue, and by revenue classification (such as tax and non-tax).
   b. Yes, multi-year estimates are presented by revenue classification (such as tax and non-tax), but only for some individual sources of revenue.
   c. Yes, multi-year estimates are presented, but only for some individual sources of revenue.
   d. No, multi-year estimates are presented for aggregate revenue only, or they are not presented at all.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: Multi-year revenue estimates classified into tax and non-tax revenues are presented in the Perspective Financial Plan of the Russian Federation for 2006 – 2008. Refer to Appendices 1-4.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: In Appendix 3 to the financial plan of the Russian Federation, the detailed classification of tax revenues is presented. The non-tax revenues are also presented in detailed classification, but some data on non-tax revenues are aggregated.

11. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present data on the total government debt outstanding for the budget year?

   a. Yes, the data reflect the outstanding debt both at the start of the budget year and at the end of the budget year (and thereby reflect the net borrowing requirement of the budget).
   b. Yes, the data reflect the outstanding debt at the end of the budget year.
   c. Yes, the data reflect the outstanding debt at the start of the budget year.
   d. No, data on the outstanding debt are not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “b.”
   Articles 80 and 83 in the 2006 budget place a limit on the total borrowings (both internal and external debt) of the Russian Federation for the budget year.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “a.” See Appendix 2 to the Financial plan of the Russian Federation IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “b” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

12. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present interest payments on the debt for the budget year?

a. Yes, interest payments on the debt are presented.
b. No, interest payments on the debt are not presented.
c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: The information on payment of interest on public debt for the budget year is presented within the functional classification of expenditures.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: Correct answer, but incorrect reference. See Appendix 2 of the Financial plan of Russian Federation.
13. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information related to the composition of government debt (such as interest rates on the debt, maturity profile of the debt, currency denomination of the debt, or whether it is domestic and external debt) for the budget year?

   a. Yes, extensive information related to the composition of government debt is presented.
   b. Yes, key additional information is presented, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some additional information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, additional information related to the composition of government debt is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: The information on internal and external debt is presented in the 2006 budget in Appendices 43-45. Additional information is available on the Ministry of Finance website.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
14. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present the macroeconomic forecast upon which the budget projections are based?

   a. Yes, an extensive discussion of the macroeconomic forecast is presented, and key assumptions (such as inflation, real GDP growth, unemployment rate, and interest rates) are stated explicitly.
   b. Yes, the macroeconomic forecast is discussed and most of the key assumptions are stated explicitly, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, there is some discussion of the macroeconomic forecast (and/or the presentation of key assumptions), but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information related to the macroeconomic forecast is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” The macroeconomic forecast for 2006 is presented in the supporting budgetary documents and some explanation is provided in the explanatory note in the federal budget. Detailed information about the macroeconomic forecast for the 2006-08 period is also available on an official site of the Ministry of Finance (www1.infin.ru) and of the Ministry of Economic Development and Trade:

   http://www.economy.gov.ru/wps/portal/?ut/p/cmd/cp/.c/6_0_69/.ce/7_0_2ES/.p/5_0_1BV/.pm/H?helpMode=Detail_default.jsp&documentId=1112866569141

   Information presented in the website of the Ministry for Economic Development is very informative and this site is mentioned in Table 2 under “Relevant Ministries & Departments.”

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” The explanatory note is not presented at the executive’s official websites, but could be found on the Internet. The macroeconomic forecast on the Ministry for Economic Development and Trade website is a part of the executive’s budget proposal according to legislation but it is not presented on the Ministry of Finance website where the executive’s budget proposal is presented.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “a” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire.
15. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation show the impact of different macroeconomic assumptions (i.e., sensitivity analysis) on the budget (including expenditures, revenues, and debt)?

   a. Yes, extensive information on the impact of macroeconomic assumptions on the budget is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting the impact of the major macroeconomic assumptions, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on the impact of different macroeconomic assumptions on the budget is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” A sensitivity analysis is presented, which evaluates alternative macroeconomic scenarios while formulating both the mid-term financial plan and the federal budget.

Information presented on the Ministry for Economic Development website is very informative and this site is mentioned in Table 2 under “Relevant Ministries & Departments.”

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” The explanatory note is not presented on the executive’s official websites, but could be found on the Internet. The macroeconomic forecast on the Ministry for Economic Development and Trade website is a part of the executive’s budget proposal according to legislation but it is not presented on the Ministry of Finance website where the executive’s budget proposal is presented.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “a” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire.
16. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year that shows how policy proposals in the budget, as distinct from existing policies, affect expenditures?

   a. Yes, extensive information on the impact of policy proposals on expenditures is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting the impact of key policy proposals on expenditures, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on the impact of policy proposals on expenditures is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “c.” The supporting budget documents and the explanatory note for the federal budget (in the chapter describing functional classification) discuss some budget policy implications including financial implications of these policies.

The explanatory note for the federal budget highlights the impact of key policy proposals on expenditures, but it lacks important details.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: A very limited number of policies are discussed, certainly not a sufficient number, and impact simulations and modeling are not used, so the answer can be “d” even though formally “c” is also correct.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” The explanatory note for the federal budget highlights the impact of key policy proposals on expenditures.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.
17. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year that shows how policy proposals in the budget, as distinct from existing policies, affect revenues?

a. Yes, extensive information on the impact of policy proposals on revenues is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting the impact of key policy proposals on revenues, but some details are excluded.
c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
d. No, information on the impact of policy proposals on revenues is not presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: The explanatory note in the budget provides this information. Refer to the section on revenue, which describes the sources of revenue and explains the main changes in the budget policy and the financial implication of these changes on the revenues.

Estimates for Years Prior to the Budget Year

18. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the year preceding the budget year (BY-1) that are classified by administrative unit (that is, by ministry, department, or agency)?

   a. All expenditures are classified by administrative unit for BY-1.
   b. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit for BY-1, but some small units are not shown separately.
   c. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit for BY-1, but a significant number of units are not shown separately.
   d. No expenditures classified by administrative unit are presented for BY-1.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “b.” In the budget for 2005, Appendices 9 and 9.1, “the Departmental structure of charges of the federal budget for 2005” present a departmental classification of almost 88 percent of the budget, i.e. 102 departments with a budget totaling 2,675 billion Roubles.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: The 2006 executive budget does not contain any classification of or data for the 2005 expenditures, so the correct answer should be “d.” However, the respondent provided correct information about the 2005 budget.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: There is no such data in the 2006 budget or in the supporting documentation. The answer depends on whether the budget for 2005 could be considered a supporting document or not.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) Code of Good Practices on Fiscal Transparency recommends that budget documents present data on the two prior-year budgets along with the current-year data. This is an issue that the IMF is increasingly raising with governments in its Reports on the Observance of Standards and Codes (ROSC) reports.
19. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the year preceding the budget year (BY-1) that are classified by functional classification?

   a. All expenditures are classified by functional classification for BY-1, and the categorization is compatible with international standards.
   b. All expenditures are classified by functional classification for BY-1, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards.
   c. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by function for BY-1.
   d. No expenditures classified by function are presented for BY-1.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” The information is available in the budget for 2005 (173-ФЗ from 23.12.04, №84-ФЗ from 05.07.05) in Appendices 7 and 7.1

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: See comment to question 18. A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: There is no such data in the 2006 budget or in supporting documentation. The answer depends on whether the budget for 2005 could be considered a supporting document or not.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. The IMF Code on Good Budget Practices requires that the budget document present data on the two prior-year budgets along with the current-year data. Recently the IMF has begun to take this issue up with governments during the ROSC process.

20. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the year preceding the budget year (BY-1) that are classified by economic classification?

   a. All expenditures are classified by economic classification for BY-1, and the categorization is compatible with international standards.
   b. All expenditures are classified by economic classification for BY-1, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards.
   c. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by economic classification for BY-1.
   d. No expenditures classified by economic classification are presented for BY-1.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
21. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for individual programs for the year preceding the budget year (BY-1)?

   a. Program-level expenditure data are presented for all expenditures for BY-1.
   b. Program-level expenditure data are presented for at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures for BY-1.
   c. Program-level expenditure data are presented, but for less than two-thirds of expenditures for BY-1.
   d. No program-level expenditure data are presented for BY-1.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” The budget is classified by section, sub-item, and target article (a kind of expenditure). Refer to Appendices 28 and 28.1 in the 2005 budget (173-ФЗ from 23.12.04, №84-ФЗ from 05.07.05).

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: Same as question 18, “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: There is no such data in the 2006 budget or in supporting documentation. The answer depends on whether the budget for 2005 could be considered a supporting document or not

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. The IMF Code on Good Budget Practices requires that the budget document present data on the two prior-year budgets along with the current-year data. Recently the IMF has begun to take this issue up with governments during the ROSC process.
22. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, how many months of actual data are reflected in the expenditure estimates of the year prior to the budget year (BY-1)?

   a. All BY-1 estimates have been updated from the original enacted levels to reflect six or more months of actual expenditure.
   b. All BY-1 estimates have been updated from the original enacted levels, but reflect less than six months of actual expenditure.
   c. Some BY-1 estimates have been updated from the original enacted levels to reflect actual expenditure.
   d. The BY-1 estimates have not been updated from the original enacted levels, or no BY-1 estimates are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.”

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: In the 2006 budget, references are not made to the 2005 data, except for inflation forecast that is made for December 2006 and uses December 2005 as a base period. In the law ‘On execution of the 2005 budget,’ the updates of the 2005 budget estimates are made, but in the 2006 budget law this information is not included. Therefore, a more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: There is no such data in the 2006 budget or supporting documentation, but it is available on the Internet and also presented to the officials. The answer depends on whether these documents could be considered supporting ones or not.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. The IMF Code on Good Budget Practices requires that the budget document present data on the two prior-year budgets along with the current-year data. Recently the IMF has begun to take this issue up with governments during the ROSC process.
23. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, are estimates of the aggregate level of expenditure presented for years that precede the budget year by more than one year (that is, BY-2 and prior years)?

   a. Yes, such prior-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are presented.
   b. No, such prior-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are not presented.
   c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” The estimates of the aggregate level of expenditure for 2004-2005 are presented in the Perspective Financial Plan of the Russian Federation for 2006 – 2008 in Appendix 2.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: Same as question 22, a more appropriate answer would be “b.”

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “b” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. The IMF Code on Good Budget Practices requires that the budget document present data on the two prior-year budgets along with the current-year data. Recently the IMF has begun to take this issue up with governments during the ROSC process.
24. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, is more detail than just the aggregate level presented for expenditure estimates that cover years preceding the budget year by more than one year (that is, BY-2 and prior years)?

   a. Yes, such prior-year expenditure estimates are presented for all individual programs, and for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative).
   b. Yes, such prior-year estimates are presented for one or more expenditure classification (such as functional, economic, or administrative), but only for some individual programs.
   c. Yes, such prior-year estimates are presented, but only for a portion of one or more of the expenditure classifications (such as some functions, or some administrative units) and/or for only some individual programs.
   d. No, such prior-year estimates are presented for aggregate expenditure only, or they are not presented at all.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” The expenditure estimates are presented in the Perspective Financial Plan of the Russian Federation for 2006 – 2008. Reports on budget performance, which are part of the appendices to the budget, contain data on budget expenditures, which are classified by administrative units and by functional classification.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: See comments to question 23, a more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: The Financial plan of the Russian Federation contains only aggregate data. Reports on budget execution are available on the Internet and they are reviewed by officials in the budget process. The answer depends on whether these documents could be considered supporting documents or not.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. The IMF Code on Good Budget Practices requires that the budget document present data on the two prior-year budgets along with the current-year data. Recently the IMF has begun to take this issue up with governments during the ROSC process.
25. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, what is the most recent year presented for which all expenditures reflect actual outcomes?

   a. Two years prior to the budget year (BY-2).
   b. Three years prior to the budget year (BY-3).
   c. Before BY-3.
   d. No actual data for all expenditures are presented in the budget or supporting budget documentation.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: There are no actual data for previous years in the budget.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

26. Are the expenditure estimates for the years prior to the budget year adjusted, as needed, to be comparable with the budget-year estimates in terms of classification and presentation?

   a. Yes, prior-year data are always adjusted to be comparable to the budget year data.
   b. Yes, in most cases, prior-year data are adjusted to be comparable.
   c. Yes, in some cases, prior-year data are adjusted to be comparable, but significant deviations between prior-year and budget-year classifications exist.
   d. No, prior-year data are not adjusted to be comparable, or no prior-year estimates are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “c.” The 2005 and 2006 budgets were presented as per a new budget classification system and they are comparable. However, budgets and reports prior to 2005 have other formats and it is difficult to compare them with current budget reports.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. Recently the IMF has begun to take this issue up with governments during the ROSC process.
27. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation identify the different sources of tax revenue (such as income tax or VAT) for the year preceding the budget year (BY-1)?

a. All tax revenues are identified individually for BY-1.
b. Tax revenues amounting to at least two-thirds of, but not all, tax revenue for BY-1 are identified individually.
c. Tax revenues amounting to less than two-thirds of all tax revenues for BY-1 are identified individually.
d. No tax revenues are identified individually for BY-1.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” Refer to Appendices 6 and 6.1 in the 2005 budget (173-ФЗ from 23.12.04, №84-ФЗ from 05.07.05).

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

28. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation identify the different sources of non-tax revenue (such as grants, property income, and sales of goods and services) for the year preceding the budget year (BY-1)?

   a. All non-tax revenues are identified individually for BY-1.
   b. Non-tax revenues amounting to at least two-thirds of, but not all, non-tax revenue for BY-1 are identified individually.
   c. Non-tax revenues amounting to less than two-thirds of all non-tax revenues for BY-1 are identified individually.

   a. Yes, such prior-year revenue estimates are presented for individual sources of revenue, and by revenue classification (such as tax and non-tax).

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “c.” See the Financial plan of the Russian Federation. For BY 2004 there are only aggregated estimates of revenues and some additional details.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. The IMF Code on Good Budget Practices requires that the budget document present data on the two prior-year budgets along with the current-year data. Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “d.” The revenues reflect actual outcomes of the year 2003-2004.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “d,” even though information on actual revenues is available for preceding years, but it is not part of the executive budget for 2006.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: The Financial plan of the Russian Federation contains data (but only aggregated) for BY-2.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. 33. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information related to the government debt for the year preceding the budget year?

   a. Yes, extensive information is presented on the level and composition of government debt for the year preceding the budget year.
   b. Yes, information on the level of debt is presented, but some important details about the composition of the debt are excluded.
   c. Yes, but only information on the level of debt is presented.
   d. No, information related to the government debt for BY-1 is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “c.” The executive budget proposal (refer to Annex 51) presents information on the level of debt.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: This is correct, to some extent, because Annex 51-2 provides information on the total amount of external borrowing and this information is broken down by agents and by periods, such as ‘funds used by January 1, 2006’ and ‘funds committed to be used during 2006.’ However, this information does not reflect domestic borrowing and the total government debt is difficult to extract. I would give the answer “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.
34. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, what is the most recent year presented for which the debt figures reflect actual outcomes?

   a. Two years prior to the budget year (BY-2).
   b. Three years prior to the budget year (BY-3).
   c. Before BY-3.
   d. No actual data for government debt are presented in the budget or supporting budget documentation.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” The actual outcome of public debt for 2003-2004 is presented. In the Federal Budget for the next year, the information for the next year is reviewed and approved. Information for the previous years, including the debt figures reflecting actual outcomes is presented in supporting budget documentation which includes the reports on execution of the federal budget for the previous years. The report on federal budget for 2004 year execution was presented by the government to the State Duma on 26 August 2005 together with the draft Federal Budget for 2006.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: See comment to question 34 and earlier. The budget for 2006 does not include the information to which the respondent is referring. A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.” However, there are separate publicly available documents on the government debt, which can be obtained from websites:
http://www1.minfin.ru/domdbt_eng/domdbt_eng.htm
http://www1.minfin.ru/ex_debt/debt.htm

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “c.” Information provided in the explanatory note on sub-items “Transfers to un-appropriated funds” in Appendix 39.

Researcher Response to Peer Reviewer: The question is not seeking information about the manner in which extra-budgetary funds are created but rather whether information on these funds is provided in the budget documents. The budget documents contain some information on extra budgetary funds, but it lacks important details.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: Separate budget laws are developed and adopted for extra-budgetary funds, for example, law N 171-FZ ‘On the budget of extra-budgetary Mandatory Medical Insurance Fund’. A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “e.” It seems that there was a misinterpretation of terms by the researcher. There are 3 extra-budgetary funds in Russia and their budgets are approved by separate laws with very detailed data, but some aggregated data could also be found in Financial plan of the Russian Federation.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire.
36. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year on intergovernmental transfers?

   a. Yes, extensive information on intergovernmental transfers is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key intergovernmental transfers, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on intergovernmental transfers is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: Detailed information on intergovernmental transfers (transfers to the regions) is presented in the appendices to the federal budget.

   a. Yes, extensive information on transfers to public corporations is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key transfers to public corporations, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on transfers to public corporations is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “d.” Information on transfers to public corporations is presented for a few corporations but it is inadequate to justify “c.”

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” See articles 56-59 of the federal law “On federal budget 2006” and the explanatory note to the federal budget.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.
38. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year on quasi-fiscal activities?

   a. Yes, extensive information on quasi-fiscal activities is presented, including both a narrative discussion and, where possible, quantitative estimates.

   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on quasi-fiscal activities is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “d.” There is no information on subsidies given at below market rates for special activities in the federal budget. Similarly, no information is provided on services provided to individuals or groups at prices below commercial rates.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” See explanatory note to the federal budget.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

39. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present information on financial assets held by the government?

   a. Yes, extensive information on financial assets is presented, including a listing of the assets, a discussion of their purpose, and an estimate of their market value.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key information, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on financial assets is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: Only information on revenues generated by financial assets is presented.
40. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present information on non-financial assets held by the government?

   a. Yes, extensive information on non-financial assets is presented, including a listing of the assets, a discussion of their purpose, and (where possible) an estimate of their market value.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key information, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.

41. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year on expenditure arrears?

   a. Yes, extensive information on expenditure arrears is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key expenditure arrears, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on expenditure arrears is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “e.” The explanatory note in the budget presents some information for expenditure arrears in the budget year. However, since expenditure arrears are not a significant problem in Russia we have marked this question as “e.”

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: I would rather say “d” because the budget does not give a full picture of actual arrears which are not significant at the moment, but may once become, and there was a problem with arrears in early 2005, when social benefits were modified.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “e” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire.
42. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information on contingent liabilities (such as government loan guarantees)?

   a. Yes, extensive information on contingent liabilities is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key contingent liabilities, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on contingent liabilities is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “c.” Annex 51 of the executive’s budget proposal presents some information on contingent liabilities, which lacks important details.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” See Appendices 50 and 51 to the federal budget.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

43. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information on future liabilities, such as civil service pensions?

   a. Yes, extensive information on future liabilities is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.

   c. Less than two-thirds of sources of donor assistance are identified individually.
   d. No sources of donor assistance are identified individually.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:
   The researcher’s response to this question was “d.” Annex 51 of the executive’s budget proposal provides some information on donor assistance. However, sources of donor assistance are not identified individually.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:
   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “a.” See Appendix 51 to the federal budget.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

45. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year on tax expenditures?
   a. Yes, extensive information on tax expenditures is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key tax expenditures, but some details are excluded.

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.
46. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation identify all earmarked revenues?

   a. All earmarked revenues are identified individually.
   b. At least two-thirds of, but not all, earmarked revenues are identified individually.
   c. Less than two-thirds of earmarked revenues are identified individually.
   d. No earmarked revenues are identified individually.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” All earmarked revenues “postuplenija, zarezervirovannie dla opredelennih celej” are identified individually. Earmarked revenues include the Stabilization Fund, which is sponsored by oil and oil products revenues and taxes on natural resources extraction.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: I am aware of no revenues earmarked for any type of expenditures or to support any localities and the like. There are earmarked expenditures, for instance, of the Federal Fund for Co-financing of Social Expenditures (Article 40 of the 2006 budget law) but the revenue sources for such earmarked funds are not transparently earmarked. Therefore, a more appropriate response to this question would be “d.”

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “e.” There are no earmarked revenues in Russia except for revenues collecting by extra-budgetary funds.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “a” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

47. What percentage of expenditure in the budget year is dedicated to spending on secret items relating to, for instance, national security and military intelligence?

   a. One percent or less of expenditure is dedicated to secret items.
   b. Three percent or less, but more than one percent, of expenditure is dedicated to secret items.
   c. Eight percent or less, but more than three percent, of expenditure is dedicated to secret items.
   d. More than eight percent of expenditure is dedicated to secret items, or the percentage is not available to the public.

Citation and/or comment: In the 2006 budget, approximately 12 percent of the expenditures are confidential/secret.

   a. Yes, extensive public hearings are held on the budgets of administrative units in which testimony from the executive branch is heard.
   b. Yes, hearings are held, covering key administrative units, in which testimony from the executive branch is heard.
   c. Yes, a limited number of hearings are held in which testimony from the executive branch is heard.
   d. No, public hearings are not held on the budgets of administrative units in which testimony from the executive branch is heard.

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “b.” Since 2005 such hearings are held, covering key administrative units, in which testimony from the executive branch is heard (the information was widely in mass media in 2005)

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “d” because testimonies from the executive branches are held on special issues rather than on each department/branch’s budget.

   b. Yes, the legislature is provided information on spending on secret items, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, the legislature is provided some information on spending on secret items, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, the legislature is provided no information on secret items.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.”

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: It is hard for me to judge how extensive this information is.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” According to the Budget code, additional materials to the secret articles are available only for chairmen of the lower and upper assemblies (quantitative estimates are available to all members of the legal assembly).

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “a” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. The provisions in the Russian budget indicate that some information on secret items is provided to the legislature but in practice it is difficult to gauge whether this information is extensive or not.

82. Does the legislature have authority to amend the budget presented by the executive?

   a. Yes, the legislature has unlimited authority to amend the budget.
   b. Yes, the legislature has authority to amend the budget, with some limitations.
   c. Yes, the legislature has authority to amend the budget, but its authority is very limited.
   d. No, the legislature does not have any authority to amend the budget.

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” The head of the Ministry of Finance has the exclusive right to authorize shifting of funds between sections, sub-items, and articles of functional and economic classifications, within an overall limit of 10 percent of the approved expenditures.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: The comment is correct and therefore the answer should be “d,” but the limit for such shifting is set.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “a” to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire. This question should be answered based on whether or not the executive seeks permission of the legislature before shifting funds that it is not allowed to shift under law. Therefore, if the public finance law allows the executive to shift funds up to a limit of 10 percent without seeking permission of the legislature then the conditions for an answer “a” have been met.
98. During the past year, have there been credible reported instances in which the procurement of goods and services has not followed an open and competitive process in practice?

- a. There were no credible reported instances of procurement failing to follow an open and competitive process in practice during the past year.
- b. The procurement of goods and services frequently followed an open and competitive process in practice, but there were some reported instances of irregularities.
- c. The procurement of goods and services followed an open and competitive process in many instances, but there were significant reported examples of irregularities.
- d. No, the procurement process was not open and competitive in practice.
- e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “b.” During the last four years, the Ministry of Economic Development and Trade presented quarterly results of monitoring of state purchases and the cases of corruption in the procurement system. Refer to:

http://www.roskazna.ru/concurs.html

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: Formally, a lot of procurement is organized on a competitive basis, but in practice it is known that many competitions are set up in advance and become a formality. While it is difficult to prove this without investigations, I would mark “d” here.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “d.” Although there were no much reported examples of irregularities, the procurement process was not competitive in practice, and there were large examples of corruption, kickbacks etc.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. Russia is ranked 126 out of 158 countries in Transparency International’s Global Corruption Perception Index 2005.
99. When does the legislature typically approve supplemental budgets?

   c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   c. Supplemental budgets are generally equal to more than 5 percent, but less than 10 percent, of the original budget.
