HOTSPOTS

- Many Port St. Johns, Emfuleni, Emalahleni and Msunduzi residents do not have access to municipal sanitation and have had to construct their own pit toilets.
- Many residents from Port St. Johns, Emalahleni and Emfuleni also do not have regular access to water.
- Apart from Mossel Bay, non-metro municipalities did not provide residents with soap or hand sanitizer.

GOOD NEWS!

- Mossel Bay and Msunduzi did better than most metros in the provision of public lighting in informal settlements.
- Knysna's toilet traffic light has turned green because all residents reported that their toilets have been cleaned.
- Although still at crisis levels, Msunduzi and Emfuleni have made a start on toilet cleaning.
- Emalahleni has improved significantly with water provision, refuse removal and the provision of hand sanitiser, although at this point, not enough for their traffic lights to change from red.
