“We have achieved a number of noteworthy successes, including restoring discipline in the management of our public finances, but acknowledge that life is still not easy as it should be. One thing for which I am certain is that, there is hope for better and brighter tomorrow”

- H.E. Nana Addo Dankwa Akufo-Addo
MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTER

This 2019 Budget provides a midterm report on how well the economy has been managed and how we intend to accelerate the programme of growing the economy, protecting the vulnerable, and creating jobs and prosperity for the Ghanaian people over the next financial year.

I am proud to say that the Akufo-Addo government is delivering on its four-year mandate. This is evident in the impressive strides the nation has made in the past 22 months.

On behalf of the President, I thank you all, the citizens of this country, for your patience, perseverance, sacrifices and partnership. We have taken tough decisions to get the country out of pretty rough seas. We still have a long way to go in fulfilling the manifest destiny of Ghana. What is, however, clear is that the nation is moving forward and in the right direction and indeed we are being repaid for “the years the locusts have eaten”.

We are now on course to exit the IMF programme by the end of this year. The programme may have had its critics because of the constrains it imposed. But it was a necessary pill because by 2014, the government then had lost its fiscal discipline and had very little choice but to seek the bailout. We are grateful to the IMF and are determined to maintain a combination of economic discipline and vibrancy that will ensure that we will not have to be rescued in that manner in the future.

The President on his inauguration famously urged the people of Ghana to behave not as spectators but as active citizens. This means that every citizen has the right and responsibility to play an active role in building our nation. The discipline that is required cuts both ways: that, both government and citizens help in the fight against corruption, waste and abuse of our limited resources. That, we all work hard and diligently. That, citizens pay the right taxes and duties and that the state, in turn, ensures that taxpayers’ money is used responsibly, equitably and with integrity.

In 2019, Government is pushing more support into key sectors of growth such as the service sector, infrastructural development, agriculture, industry, and entrepreneurship.

As we pursue the President’s vision of moving Ghana Beyond Aid, I wish to appeal to the conscience of all citizens to heed to the President’s call and assume shared ownership of this important agenda—Ghana Beyond Aid. Let us all be actively involved in the Ghana project and to do so with integrity, hard work, sacrifice and a greater sense of ownership, so that we can get there faster and the rewards of our collective toils shall also be shared equitably. Let us all go forth in a spirit of unity.

God bless us all.

KEN OFORI-ATTA
Minister for Finance
INTRODUCTION

The 2019 Citizens’ Budget explains in simple terms how government plans to raise the needed revenues to implement its policies and programmes to help improve the living standards of Ghanaians.

This document focuses on government’s achievements in 2018 and what it intends to do in 2019, in the major sectors of the economy including health, education, agriculture and energy.

OVERALL MACROECONOMIC PERFORMANCE

2018 Performance and 2019 Budget

As at the end of September 2018, total revenue and grants amounted to GH¢32,201.4 million against a target of GH¢35,599.1 million. For the same period, total expenditures including outstanding obligations amounted to GH¢41,251.1 million as against a target of GH¢43,379.5 million.

From the above, it can be observed that Government’s largest expenditure item for the period is Compensation of Employees.
ASSUMPTIONS UNDERLYING THE 2019 BUDGET (MACROECONOMIC TARGETS)

The assumptions underlying the 2019 Budget are as follows:

- Overall Real GDP growth of 7.6 percent;
- Non-Oil Real GDP growth of 6.2 percent;
- End-period inflation of 8.0 percent;
- Fiscal deficit of 4.2 percent of GDP;
- Primary surplus of 1.2 percent of GDP; and
- Gross International Reserves to cover not less than 3.5 months of imports of goods and services.

The 2019 budget will ensure prudent fiscal measures, which will set the pace for a favourable investment environment to create jobs and accelerate growth in vital sectors of the economy.

REVENUE POLICY MEASURES

Government’s strategy for revenue mobilization is to continue the agenda of improving revenue performance through the implementation of the following tax policy measures among others in 2019:

Support to the textile industry: In order to curtail smuggling and counterfeiting in the textile industry, it is proposed that the tax stamp policy be extended to the textile industry. Government proposes to zero-rate VAT on the supply of locally made textiles for a period of three years.

Review of the Income Tax Band: Government to give further relief to Ghanaians, proposes to review this band to impact monthly incomes above GH¢20,000 at a rate of 30 per cent.

Tax Identification Number: In 2019, government will begin to apply sanctions to state and private entities that fail to enforce TIN requirements. Additionally, citizens will be required to have a TIN to access social services and benefits provided by the state.

Deployment of Nation Builder’s Corps (NABCo): The GRA has been assigned ten thousand officers from the NABCo who will be deployed to identify and register potential taxpayers and follow up on arrears. The data will be used to update the GRA taxpayer database.
Theme: “A Stronger Economy for Jobs and Prosperity”

Public Spending Measures

To limit excessive expenditure overruns the following measures will be implemented among others. Government will:

- continue to strengthen commitment control and cash management;
- improve treasury and risk management;
- realign statutory funds to reduce rigidities in budget allocation to fund priority projects.

REVENUE AND GRANTS: HOW GOVERNMENT GETS ITS MONEY

Government gets its monies from domestic and external sources. The domestic revenue comes from taxes, social contributions, non-tax revenue, and other sources. For government to raise enough revenue for development, citizens, companies, and organizations must pay right amount of taxes on time.

The total revenue and grants projected for 2019 including programmed receipts from petroleum amounts to GH¢58,904.9 million, equivalent to 17.1% of GDP.

Total projected domestic revenue for 2019 is GH¢57,794.9 million. Government projects to receive programme and project grants amounting to GH¢1,109.9 million from its Development Partners. The breakdown is shown in the figure below.
