Open Budget Survey 2017

Questionnaire

Papua New Guinea

January 2018
PBS-1: Fiscal Year of PBS

Question: What is the fiscal year of the PBS evaluated in this Open Budget Survey questionnaire? Please enter the fiscal year in the following format: “FY YYYY” or “FY YYYY-YY.”

Answer: FY 2017

Sources: 2017 Budget Strategy Paper Link

Fiscal Responsibility Act 2006 (passed in April and effective from September 2016), which specifies, in Section 6 that the "Treasurer shall release publicly and table a Budget Strategy Paper at least three months before presentation of the Budget to National Parliament". The National Planning and Monitoring Responsibility Act 2016, which specifies that the Annual Budget Framework Paper, linking the Annual Budget to the Medium Term Development Plan, shall 'be published at least 4 months before the Budget is tabled' and 'provide guidance in the preparation of the Budget Strategy Paper' Link

Comments: Researcher: The Pre-Budget Statement is for the Budget year 2017. The requirement for this statement is specified in law in the Fiscal Responsibility Act 2006, and shall be at least 3 months prior to the Budget proposal. The 2016 National Planning and Monitoring Act also requires an annual Budget Framework Paper four months ahead of the Budget proposal and ahead of the BSP. In 2016, however, the PBS was released on Budget day itself, despite having been prepared several weeks in advance. This oversight was ostensibly on the basis of the 2016 Supplementary Budget being released in August 2016, with the Treasurer indicating that this to some indicated aspects of a Budget strategy paper.

Opinion: Not Qualified

IBP comment: Despite repeated requests to the Government of Papua New Guinea for its comments on the draft Open Budget Questionnaire results, IBP did not receive any response. The survey tool used, however, did not allow the government response to be left blank, and did not permit changes in the answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.

PBS-2: Availability of PBS

Question: When is the PBS made available to the public?

- Option a. (100) At least four months in advance of the budget year, and at least one month before the Executive’s Budget Proposal is introduced in the legislature
- Option b. (67) At least two months, but less than four months, in advance of the budget year, and at least one month before the Executive’s Budget Proposal is introduced in the legislature
- Option c. (33) Less than two months in advance of the budget year, but at least one month before the Executive’s Budget Proposal is introduced in the legislature
- Option d. (0) The PBS is not released to the public, or is released less than one month before the Executive’s Budget Proposal is introduced to the legislature

Answer: d.

Sources: The PBS was released to the public on 21 October 2015, less than one month before the Executive Budget Proposal was tabled in Parliament on 3 November 2015, which is non-compliant with the OBS requirement for publicly available, but also in contravention of the Papua New Guinea Fiscal Responsibility Act, 2006. (The tabling of the PBS for 2017 also failed to comply, being released online after the EBP on 1st November; the Treasurer’s response was that the 2016 Supplementary Budget tabled in August 2016 performed the role of the PBS, at least initially, providing some economic and fiscal data and forecasts.)

Peer Reviewer

Opinion: Agree with Comments

Comments: I agree with the researcher’s comments. The PBS (2017 Budget Strategy Paper, dated 29 October 2016) was online on 1 November 2016, which is the same day that that the EBP was presented to Parliament by Hon. Patrick Pruaitch, CMG, MP, Treasurer. This does meet the OBS methodology for at least one month in advance of the EBP. The additional information regarding 2016 PBS supports the researcher’s score.

IBP comment: Despite repeated requests to the Government of Papua New Guinea for its comments on the draft Open Budget Questionnaire results, IBP did not receive any response. The survey tool used, however, did not allow the government response to be left blank, and did not permit changes in the answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.

PBS-3a: If the PBS is published, what is the date of publication of the PBS? Researchers should respond to this question if the document is published either within the time frame accepted by the OBS methodology or too late. Please enter the date in the following format: “DD Month YYYY.” For example, 5 September 2016 should be entered as 05 September 2016. If the document is not published or not produced, please mark this question “n/a.”

Answer: 1 November 2016

Sources: The date of the document on the Treasury's website is 29 October 2016, but was in fact only released (on the website) on 1st November, the same day as the Executive's Budget Proposal was tabled.

Comments: Researcher: The PBS document was prepared in October 2016, about 3 weeks ahead of the tabling of the Executive's Budget Proposal, but was finally only released on the same day as the proposal, (perhaps response to questions raised to the Treasury Dept over the whereabouts of the strategy)

PBS-3b: In the box below, please explain how you determined the date of publication of the PBS. If the document is not published at all, researchers should mark this question “n/a.”

Answer: Although it’s dated 29 October, the Pre-Budget Statement for 2017 was uploaded on the Treasury’s website on the same day that the EBP was tabled in Parliament, namely 1st November. I know, as at the time I was monitoring the Treasury’s website at least once daily, explicitly looking for this document and regularly consulting with Treasury staff. The Treasurer had earlier stated that the PBS components were included within the 2016 Supplementary Budget (tabled in August) and that this complied with the requirements of the Fiscal Responsibility Act 2006. However, none of the fiscal forecasts and other details for 2017 were included in the Supplementary Budget, and in the end, although a draft was prepared well in advance, the PBS was not released until Budget day itself; clearly a notional exercise, but not compliant with either the legislation or the OBI requirements for a PBS. http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/FINAL%202017%20BUDGET%20STRATEGY%20PAPER%20%20%20%20%20OCT%202016.pdf

Opinion: Agree with Comments

Comments: The focus of this assessment should concentrate on the latest budget documents which the researcher has cited in previous questions. The PBS is dated 29 October 2016 and was released online on 1 November 2016. The release date is derived from the PDF document properties.

Researchers should respond to this question if the document is published either within the time frame accepted by the OBS methodology or too late. If the document is not published at all, researchers should mark this question “n/a.”

Sources: 2017 Budget Strategy Paper released on 1 November 2016
PBS-5: If the PBS is published, are the numerical data contained in the PBS available in a machine readable format?

a. Yes, all of the numerical data are available in a machine readable format
b. Yes, some of the numerical data are available in a machine readable format
c. No
d. Not applicable

Answer: c.

Sources: It is only released as a Pdf document

PBS-6a: If the PBS is not publicly available, is it still produced?

a. Produced but made available online to the public too late (published after the acceptable time frame)
b. Produced but made available only in hard copy or soft copy (not available online)
c. Produced for internal purposes/use only
d. Not produced at all
e. Not applicable (the document is publicly available)

Answer: a.

Sources: The PBS was released on 1 November 2016 and the Executive's Budget Proposal presented to the Legislature on 1 November 2016, which is less than two weeks after.
PBS-7: If the PBS is produced, please write the full title of the PBS. If the document is not produced at all, researchers should mark this question “n/a.”

Answer: 2017 Budget Strategy Paper

PBS-8: Is there a “citizens version” of the PBS?

a. Yes
b. No

Answer: b.

Sources: There is no ‘Citizen’s Budget’ for any stage of the Budget process at the moment. The concept has been raised and discussed with civil society organisations, including as a component of the Open Government Partnership national Action Plan, but not yet approved or implemented.

EBP-1a: What is the fiscal year of the EBP evaluated in this Open Budget Survey questionnaire? Please enter the fiscal year in the following format: “FY YYYY” or “FY YYYY-YY.”

Answer: FY 2017

Sources: The Fiscal Year for Papua New Guinea coincides with the Calendar Year, i.e. January - December
answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.

EBP-1b: When is the EBP submitted to the legislature for consideration? Please enter the date in the following format: “DD Month YYYY.” For example, 5 September 2016 should be entered as 05 September 2016.

Answer: 01 November 2016

Sources: The EBP is presented as a series of documents, including the legislative documents, including various Appropriation Bills and other new or amended legislation

Peer Reviewer
Opinion: Agree with Comments
Comments: The researcher is correct in that the EBP for 2017 was presented on 1 November 2016. In reviewing the Fiscal Responsibility Act 2006, Section 22, Public Finances (Management) Act 1995 and Section 209 of the Constitution of PNG, a legislative timeframe to present the budget (EBP) to Parliament before the commencement of the new fiscal year is not evident and perhaps there is a need for this in the future.

EBP-2: When is the EBP made available to the public?

a. (100) At least three months in advance of the budget year, and in advance of the budget being approved by the legislature
b. (67) At least two months, but less than three months, in advance of the budget year, and in advance of the budget being approved by the legislature
c. (33) Less than two months in advance of the budget year, but at least in advance of the budget being approved by the legislature
d. (0) The EBP is not released to the public, or is released after the budget has been approved by the legislature

Answer: b. (67)

Sources: The EBP was provided to the media, accounting firms, research bodies, foreign missions and other some other civil society bodies in a budget ‘lockup’ immediately before tabling in the Legislature, but only for wider release once the tabling had occurred. It was also posted on the Treasury’s website that same afternoon, exactly 2 months before the start of the new budget year.

EBP-3b: In the box below, please explain how you determined the date of publication of the EBP. If the document is not published at all, researchers should mark this question “n/a.”

Answer: Hard copies of the Budget were provided (in limited numbers) to media representatives, selected researchers, accounting firms, etc, for them to examine and share on the morning when it was tabled in the Legislature (i.e. the 1st November). The Budget was also broadcast live on the television and at least one radio station. The EBP was also uploaded on to the Treasury’s website and accessible to the public that same day, as verified by the researcher and overseas budget commentators were also promptly providing budget commentaries based upon access to the website.

Sources: After attending the Budget ‘lockup’, at which participants were provided electronic copies of the EBP, the researcher was invited to email copies of the EBP with other Budget commentators the same day, but this was unnecessary, at it was already posted to the website.

a. Produced but made available online to the public too late (published after the acceptable time frame)
b. Produced but made available only in hard copy or soft copy (not available online)
c. Produced for internal purposes/use only
d. Not produced at all
e. Not applicable (the document is publicly available)

Answer: e.

Sources: According to the OBS 2017 criteria the PNG 2016 EBP could (just) be deemed publicly available, on the basis that it was available online on the same day it was tabled in the legislature (and in hard copies in limited copies etc) just under 2 months prior to the commencement of the Fiscal Year. However, as the Budget was passed on the same afternoon (approx 2 hours after being tabled), it is unknown whether the EBP was partially/entirely uploaded by the time the motion was moved and approved to pass the Budget in the Legislature. If on this basis it was deemed to have been 'publicly unavailable', then the answer to this question would be 'a'.

EB-1b: When was the EB approved (enacted) by the legislature? Please enter the date in the following format: “DD Month YYYYY.” For example, 5 September 2016 should be entered as 05 September 2016.

Answer: 03 November 2015

Sources: The EB (comprising 3 Appropriation Acts, plus associated Budget legislative Amendment tabled successively) was approved in full (without an opportunity to study it, or, therefore, for proper debate) approximately eight hours after being tabled by the Treasurer Hansard (Official Minutes of Parliament) for 3rd November 2015 http://www.parliament.gov.pg/uploads/hansard/H-09-20151103-M... (http://www.parliament.gov.pg/index.php/bills-and-legislation/view/appropriation-general-public-services-expenditure-2017-act-2016), it implies that the one of the Appropriation (General Public Services Expenditure 2017) Act 2016 was not passed by Parliament until 8 November 2016 and the downloaded document is certified by the Speaker of the House on 22 December 2016 that Parliament made the Act on 8 November 2016. I think it is important that we focus on the EB2017 which was passed on 8 November 2016 and certified by the Speaker on 22 December 2016, which is within the timeframe of this survey.

Researcher response: The EB for 2017 (Budget Appropriation legislation) was certified (and therefore came into effect legally) on 22nd December, 2016. but was not published on the Parliament website until February 2017. For this reason, the score is unchanged and we use EB for FY 2016.

c. (33) More than six weeks, but less than three months, after the budget has been enacted
d. (0) The EB is not released to the public, or is released more than three months after the budget has been enacted

Answer: c. (33)

Sources: The 2016 Enacted Budget was made available in on the Parliament website 11 weeks after it was approved by Parliament, and after the legislation was certified by the Speaker of Parliament (it was posted on the Government's Treasury website much later than on the Legislature's)

However, according to the Parliament Website, http://www.parliament.gov.pg/bills-and-legislation/2016, the FY2017 budget was passed on 8 November 2016 and certified on 22 December 2016 which is within the timeframe of this review.

IBP comment: Despite repeated requests to the Government of Papua New Guinea for its comments on the draft Open Budget Questionnaire results, IBP did not receive any response. The survey tool used, however, did not allow the government response to be left blank, and did not permit changes in the answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.

EB-5: If the EB is published, are the numerical data contained in the EB available in a machine readable format?

- a. Yes, all of the numerical data are available in a machine readable format
- b. Yes, some of the numerical data are available in a machine readable format
- c. No
- d. Not applicable

Answer: c.

Sources: The Budget legislation is in Pdf form, including the EBP, which legally provides the detailed breakdown of expenditure items (by institution, broken down by line item etc), as provided for the Enacted Budget legislation documents.

EB-6a: If the EB is not publicly available, is it still produced?

- a. Produced but made available online to the public too late (published after the acceptable time frame)
- b. Produced but made available only in hard copy or soft copy (not available online)
- c. Produced for internal purposes/use only
- d. Not produced at all
- e. Not applicable (the document is publicly available)

Answer: e.

Sources: The Appropriations and Budget-related legislation are available on the National Parliament website, whilst the details of the enacted Budget are contained in the EBP (as specified in the 2016 Appropriation (Public Goods) Act 2015) are available on the Treasury website.

CB-1: What is the fiscal year of the CB evaluated in this Open Budget Survey questionnaire? Please enter the fiscal year in the following format: “FY YYYY” or “FY YYYY-YY.” If more than one Citizens Budget is produced, for each CB please indicate the document the CB simplifies/refers to, and the fiscal year.

Answer: FY 2017
CB-2a: For the fiscal year indicated above, what is the public availability status of the CB. If more than one Citizens Budget is produced, please complete this questions for one of them, specifying in the comment box below which document you are referring to, and – in the same comment box – which other Citizens Budgets are produced and their public availability status.

a. Produced but made available online to the public too late (published after the acceptable time frame)
b. Produced but made available only in hard copy or soft copy (not available online)
c. Produced for internal purposes/use only
d. Not produced at all
e. Not applicable (the document is publicly available)

Answer: Usually a summary of the Budget is provided by Treasury for the Budget ‘lockup’, which could form the basis of a Citizen’s Budget, although it is not circulated more widely. But this was not provided for the FY 2017 Budget. In any case it does not comprise a Citizen’s Budget and is never circulated or posted to the website, and for FY 2017 was not produced at all.

CB-3a: If the CB is published, what is the date of publication of the CB? Researchers should respond to this question if the document is published either within the time frame accepted by the OBS methodology or too late. Please enter the date in the following format: “DD Month YYYY.” For example, 5 September 2016 should be entered as 05 September 2016. Answer: d.
Sources: Government stopped publishing IYRs in 2011. Until then they were invariably late, and no consistently published, but 2-4 were published each year. In recent years, with the government operating 3 different incompatible financial management systems (the new Integrated Financial Management System -IFMS, the former main system PGAS and an Oracle system) the Finance Department has been unable to put together and publish timely/accurate all-of-government financial reports.

Answer: With the complication of trying to prepare comprehensive government financial reports, whilst the government has been using 3 incompatible financial management systems, the Finance and Treasury Departments have fallen back to only producing the legally required ‘Mid Year’ and ‘End of Year’ reports over recent years. They’re also not produced as internal government documents.

Sources: The MYR was being widely awaited by economic analysts, commentators and research bodies (including ourselves), particularly in view of the tight economic conditions in 2016; the deadline under the Fiscal Responsibility Act was for release by 31 July, so when that deadline was close and fell due, the website was being closely monitored and the Treasury was being contacted. So it was promptly recorded when it was posted on-line by the Department on 1st August 2016.

IBP comment: Despite repeated requests to the Government of Papua New Guinea for its comments on the draft Open Budget Questionnaire results, IBP did not receive any response. The survey tool used, however, did not allow the government response to be left blank, and did not permit changes in the answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.

YER-3a: If the YER is published, what is the date of publication of the YER? Researchers should respond to this question if the document is published either within the time frame accepted by the OBS methodology or too late. Please enter the date in the following format: “DD Month YYYY.” For example, 5 September 2016 should be entered as 05 September 2016. If the document is not published or not produced, please mark this question “n/a.”

Answer: 31 March 2016

YER-8: Is there a “citizens version” of the YER?

a. Yes
b. No

Answer: b.
Sources: PNG produces no Citizens’ budgets, although there is some discussion on this between Treasury and Cicl Society bodies, and is being included in the prospective OGP National Action Plan (from 2016)
AR-1: What is the fiscal year of the AR evaluated in this Open Budget Survey questionnaire? Please enter the fiscal year in the following format: “FY YYYY” or “FY YYYY-YY.”

Answer: FY 2014

Sources: The Annual Financial Audit Reports from the PNG Auditor General are broken up into four parts. The first part, comprising the ‘Public Accounts of Papua New Guinea’ have been publicly released only up to 2011. The other 3 parts, covering, National Government Departments and Agencies, Provincial Governments and Local-level Governments and Public Bodies and their Subsidiaries, Government Owned Companies, National Government Shareholdings in Other Companies, respectively, cover the years to 2013, but not comprehensively, highlighting some of the institutions which are laggards or severely non-compliant. AR-2: When is the AR made available to the public?

a. (100) Six months or less after the end of the budget year
b. (67) 12 months or less, but more than six months, after the end of the budget year
c. (33) More than 12 months, but within 18 months, after the end of the budget year
d. (0) Does not release to the public, or is released more than 18 months after the end of the budget year

Answer: d.

Sources: At the end of 2016, the overall report on the Public Account of PNG (Part 1) is only available to 2011, and even then does not provide a full picture of the state of the accounts then. The audit report for the respective Government Departments and Agencies (Part 2) is publicly available up to 2014 (although many Departments are not completed to that year). The audit report for the respective Provincial and Local Governments (Part 3) is available up to 2013 (although many are not up to date to that date). The audit report for the respective Statutory Authorities and State-Owned Entities etc, is publicly available up to 2015, (but many SOEs/Authorities are well behind that date).

Comments: Researcher: Although there are some timely audits by some Departments, public Authorities, SOEs and other public entities (with Part IV of the Report released for 2015 and Part II of the Report up to 2014), many public entities fall many years behind and the overall audit of the Public Account is not updated from 2011. On this basis “d” is selected, even though some parts of the report are more up to date, (and perhaps more current that during the last OBI).
AR-3a: If the AR is published, what is the date of publication of the AR? If the document is not published or not produced, please mark this question “n/a.”

Answer: n/a

Sources: The report of the overall public account of PNG (Part 1) only covers the reporting year 2011. The part of the Report for Departments and Agencies (Part 2) is up to 2014, and was published after being tabled in Parliament on 18th August 2016 (outside the time limited). The part of the Report for Provincial Governments etc (Part 3) is up to 2013. The part of the Report for Statutory Authorities and State-owned Enterprises (Part 4) is up to 2015 and was published in November 2016, after becoming a public document upon being tabled in Parliament on 2nd November 2016. Under Section 214 of the Constitution “the primary functions of the Auditor-General are to inspect and audit, and to report at least once in every fiscal year (as provided by an Act of the Parliament) to the Parliament on the public accounts of Papua New Guinea, and on the control of and on transactions with or concerning the public moneys and property of Papua New Guinea, and such other functions as are prescribed by or under a Constitutional Law”. Under Section 7 (3) of the Audit Act 1989 “where the Auditor-General has carried out his functions under Section 3(5)(n) and (j) in relation to a relevant body he shall prepare a report to the National Parliament that— (a) may include such information as he thinks desirable in relation to matters referred to in the report; and (b) may include any recommendations arising out of the audit that he thinks fit to make; and (c) shall set out his reasons for opinions expressed in the report.” Under Section 63 (2) A public body shall prepare and furnish to the Minister: - (3) Financial statements under Subsection (2) shall be— (a) in the case of a public body declared under its constituent law to be a trading enterprise—in accordance with accounting principles generally applied in commercial practice; and (b) in all other cases—in a form approved by the Minister in consultation with the Auditor-General. (4) Before furnishing financial statements to the Minister, a public body shall submit them to the Auditor-General who shall report to the Minister in accordance with Part II of the Audit Act 1989. (5) The Minister shall cause the report and financial statements, together with the report of the Auditor-General, to be laid before Parliament at the first meeting of the Parliament after their receipt by the Minister. (6) When the report or a financial statement of a public body is reproduced for publication or for other purposes, the report of the Auditor-General on it shall be included in the reproduction. (7) The first report and financial statements of a public body under this section shall be furnished as soon as practicable after 31 December next following the commencement of its constituent law.

Comments: Researcher: Only one of the 4 Parts of the Auditor General's report was published within the 18 month deadline required (covering the Statutory Authorities and SOEs). Some of the other Reports were prepared within the deadline, however were not published until after the 18 month deadline, with the delays occurring during the process of submission to the Speaker and tabling in the Legislature, which in most cases entailed a lag of several months. Under prevailing rules the audit reports are required to be tabled in Parliament and then become public documents, before being released to the public. It should be noticed, however, that even when the reports are released for a given year, many of the government agencies reported upon in that report still had not had their audits for that year completed, in some cases for several years. In many cases this was owing to the very late submission of their accounts through to the Auditor General's office.

AR-3b: In the box below, please explain how you determined the date of publication of the AR. If the document is not published at all, researchers should mark this question “n/a.”

Answer: n/a

Sources: Copies of the currently most up to date publicly available Public Accounts reports, attached, namely: Part 1 (2011), Part 2 (2013-2014), Part 3 (2011-2013) and Part 4 (2013). A copy of the Notice Paper for the National Parliament for 25 August 2016 is also attached, including for some of the 2014 audit reports, notably parts 2 and 3 (and other earlier report) awaiting to be tabled. The researcher confirmed (as of 5 October 2016) with the Legislature that several of these reports remain on the Parliament Notice Paper, and have still not been tabled in Parliament (and therefore not yet available for public distribution by the SAI). PS. On 26 October 2016 Part 4 for 2014 was tabled in Parliament, and on 2nd November Part 4 for 2015 was also tabled, and hence became public document, that were subsequently uploaded to the SAI's website. The date of upload is still being verified (and at the end of 2016 the website is currently down, temporarily). See Parliament Minutes, attached, of the tabling of these recent audit reports (Hansard)

Comments: Researcher: The 2014 and 2015 reports (for Public bodies and Statutory Organisations and Companies) was uploaded in December 2016, but the exact dates of these and the uploads of earlier reports during during 2016 have not yet been ascertained, as the Auditor General's office has since changed its web service provider (formerly the Australian Audit Office); (PS The Auditor General's website went offline at the end of December 2016, and although we were advised that it would be restored within hours, by mid- July 2017 it is still not operational - we assume this is for non payment of website fees).

b. Produced but made available only in hard copy or soft copy (not available online)

e. Not applicable (the document is publicly available)

Answer: d.

Sources: The reports are not released within the required time period. Some (but not the full set) of the Annual Financial Accounts reports are prepared within the time period required, but then unable to be released to the public on account of delays in their tabling in the Legislature. Tabling the reports in the Legislature is a requirement for them to become public Documents, and only then can they (currently) be released to the public and posted on the website (It is hoped in the future to forego this requirement and for them to be publicly released by the SAI independently, as proposed in the OGP draft NAP 2016)

Answer: At the end of 2016, the audit report had been produced in part up to 2015, for Public Bodies and their Subsidiaries, National Government Owned Companies and National Government Shareholdings in Other Companies. But the reports had not been released online to the public in any form beyond 2011 for the overall Public Account of PNG (available in soft copy for 2012), or beyond 2013 for the Government Departments and Provincial Governments. In December 2016 the website discontinued operation, so all documents became available only in soft copy from the SAI’s office. Comments: Researcher: Table 8 in Appendix 3 of Volume 1 provides 5 year aggregate projections (2017-2021) by category of tax and non-tax revenue, and likewise Table 2A of Section (I) in Volume 2a. A more detailed breakdown, notably in Section (II) (page 44) is not provided for years beyond the Budget year. (It may be noticed that is also some apparent inconsistency between figures provided in some of the tables) For detailed forecasts of interest payments, see Table 10 (page 98), Transactions in Assets and Liabilities for Central Government (on forecast of net domestic and international liabilities) which presents a 4 year projection (2017-2020) of the total interest payments due on the government's debt outstanding.

Comments: Researcher: There is extensive discussion of the macroeconomic forecast and key assumptions (for such factors as inflation, real GDP growth, employment rate, and interest rates) stated in Volume 1, Chapter 2 of the budget documents, together with the tables. There are more details of strategies and longer term conditions provided in other chapters of Volume 1. There is an explanation of the forecasts and some assessments of the risks experienced and likely (from experience) to be encountered from external factors, such as changing commodity prices and inflationary pressures etc, or domestic, including seasonal conditions, but also government actions, such as issuing (further) tax concessions. Although interest rates have been relatively stable, the rigid figures provided inadequately demonstrate market conditions.
16: Does the Executive's Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation show the impact of different macroeconomic assumptions (i.e., sensitivity analysis) on the budget? b. (67) Yes, the core information is presented to show the impact of different macroeconomic assumptions on the budget.
c. (33) Yes, information is presented, but it excludes some core elements.
d. (0) No, information related to different macroeconomic assumptions is not presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Sources: 2017 Volume 1, Economic and Development Policies, Chapter 2 - Economic Developments and Outlook; Chapter 7 on financing and debt management [link]

Comments: Researcher: Volume 1 (Chapter 2, and other chapters, such as Ch 7 on financing and debt management) provides details of market conditions and forecasts, with limited explanation for those forecasts and very limited specification of options and the risks entailed upon the Budget from global economy, domestic and external inflationary pressures, government actions etc, but without any sensitivity analysis provided.

Opinion: Disagree
Suggested answer: d.

Comments: The researcher has identified general discussion on the risks to the economic and fiscal outlook for PNG throughout 2017 Budget Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies. Section 2.8 summarises these risks. However, there isn't any clear financial analysis that considers the impact on the budget of the price of oil drop or rise, the coffee market was impacted or interest rates increased rapidly. Sensitivity analysis should consider the impact of a rise or fall in inflation, real GDP and interest rates and provide a summary of the impact on the budget. This is not evident in the 2017 budget.

17: Does the Executive's Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year that shows how new policy proposals, as distinct from existing policies, affect expenditures?

a. (100) Yes, estimates that show how all new policy proposals affect expenditures are presented, along with a narrative discussion.
b. (67) Yes, estimates that show how all new policy proposals affect expenditures are presented, but a narrative discussion is not included.
c. (33) Yes, information that shows how some but not all new policy proposals affect expenditure is presented.
d. (0) No, information that shows how new policy proposals affect expenditure is not presented.

Answer: c. (33)

Sources: Volume 2017: Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies, Chapter 3 (page 15) Fiscal Strategy and Outlook, provides the fiscal and policy setting, Chapter 6 page 38 ‘Expenditure’. Policy and related expenditure details are provided in Chapter 6, mostly focusing in 2017 on cuts associated with budget constraint and the need for greater cost-effectiveness to sustain programs. More details on longer term strategies are provided in Chapter 8 (National Reform Agenda), notably on amalgamation of public sector institutions, and Chapter 9 (Improving State’s Commercial Interest) and the details of allocations by program, including past years expenditures are in Volumes 2 and 3 of the budget documents. [link] [link] [link]

Comments: Researcher: The broad policy setting is provided in Chapter 3, of Volume 1, including the tight current fiscal conditions and the link between longer term strategies and policies, and programs, as required under new planning framework and legislation. Narrative and expenditure... details (largely cuts) are provided in Chapter 6 including some link between program allocations and both longer term and more immediate Planning and Fiscal plans. Later chapters (8 & 9) are about reforms and improved performance despite a reduced budget, including through institutional amalgamation. Although the details of the actual budget allocations program by program are provided in Sections (IV) of Budget volumes 2a-2c for National Departments and Section (I-III) of Volume 2d for Statutory Authorities and Provincial Governments, and Volume 3 for the Capital Investment component of the Budget, there is virtually no reference to planning, program or allocation changes in the text provided.

18: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year that shows how new policy proposals, as distinct from existing policies, affect revenues?

a. (100) Yes, estimates that show how all new policy proposals affect revenues are presented, along with a narrative discussion.

b. (67) Yes, estimates that show how all new policy proposals affect revenues are presented, but a narrative discussion is not included.

c. (33) Yes, information that shows how some but not all new policy proposals affect revenues are presented.

d. (0) No, information that shows how new policy proposals affect revenues is not presented.

e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: c. (33)

Sources: 2017 Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies, Chapter 5 (page 27) Tax and Non-Tax Measures and developments, spells out the new Tax Measures included in the 2017 Budget (based upon longer term policies and reforms, or immediate need); Chapter 4 (page 19), Revenue details the revenue from all tax and not-tax sources, including revenue implications of the new tax policies/measure and the management of revenue and expenditure under the Sovereign Wealth Fund. The previous years’ revenue is detailed in Volume 2a - Revenues and Estimates, http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/Vol2a-Revenue%20and%20Expenditure%20National%20Govt%20Depts.pdf

Comments: Researcher: The information that is presented does highlight, or at least indicate the expected impact of key policy proposals on revenues provided in Chapter 4 and 5 of Volume 1, whether related to long planned reforms (proposed in the 2014-15 Tax Review) and more reactive (2017) measures (in the light of prevailing low revenue), including both new tax arrangements and improved compliance measures. The outcome, rather than the specific calculations to reach those conclusions, is provided.

Opinion: Disagree
Suggested answer: c.
Comments: There is a broad narrative discussion on new revenue proposals in Sections 4 and 5 of Volume 1, Economic and Development Policies and some general discussion in Chapter 3 on priorities. The narrative for some of the reforms does provide some general discussion and an estimate of the expected change in revenue collection. For example, the increase in departure tax should contribute K20 million. Other revenue reforms have the comment that “it is expected to have positive impact on the revenue and it will come into effect on 1 January 2017. It is not consistent with all new revenue proposals. It does not appear that the budget proposal present sufficient details about new policies and their budgetary impact.

22: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present estimates of expenditure for more than one year prior to the budget year (that is, BY-2 and prior years) by any of the three expenditure classifications (by administrative, economic, or functional classification)?

a. (100) Yes, expenditure estimates for BY-2 and prior years are presented by all three expenditure classifications (by administrative, economic, and functional classification).
b. (67) Yes, expenditure estimates for BY-2 and prior years are presented by two of the three expenditure classifications.
c. (33) Yes, expenditure estimates for BY-2 and prior years are presented by only one of the three expenditure classifications.
d. (0) No, expenditure estimates for BY-2 and prior years are not presented by any expenditure classification.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: a. (100)

Sources: Volume 1, Economic and Development Policies, Chapter 6, page 38, provides BY-2 summary figures by sector, and in summary form in Appendix 3, Tables 9A & 9B, BUDGETARY GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURE AND ECONOMIC CLASSIFICATION, Volume 2a 2017 Budget Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure of National Governments Departments, Sn (I) Summary Tables 1-5 (pages 3-28) provide Expenditure by administrative, economic, and functional classifications for BY-1 (and BY-2), Section (III) (page 62), Details of the Expenditure, Summary of Appropriation includes BY-1 for all Administrative unit; Section (IV) (page 78), National Government Departments, provides detailed expenditure for BY-2 for National Departments; http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/Vol2a-Revenue%20and%20Expenditure%20National%20Govts%20Depts.pdf

Comments: Researcher: The aggregate ‘actuals’ are provided for BY-2 as shown in Table 9A & 9B, and in the Summary tables derived from the expenditure classifications by programs and functional classifications and are shown in more detail in the summary tables of Volume 2a by economic, functional and administrative classifications. The detailed break up is classified by administrative units for national, provincial and statutory bodies and the Trust Accounts are not broken down. The provincial expenditure details are not broken up functionally.

IBP comment: Despite repeated requests to the Government of Papua New Guinea for its comments on the draft Open Budget Questionnaire results, IBP did not receive any response. The survey tool used, however, did not allow the government response to be left blank, and did not permit changes in the answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.
23: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for individual programs for more than one year preceding the budget year (that is, BY-2 and prior years)?

a. (100) Yes, programs accounting for all expenditures are presented for BY-2 and prior years.
b. (67) Yes, programs accounting for at Least two-Thirds of, but not all, expenditures are presented for BY-2 and prior years.
c. (33) Yes, programs accounting for less than two-Thirds of expenditures are presented for BY-2 and prior years.
d. (0) No, not expenditures are presented by program for BY-2 and prior years.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: a. (100)

Comments: Researcher: Expenditures for individual programs are presented for revised estimates for BY-2. The details are provided by programs in the summary section, in the main expenditure sections (of vol 2a, 2b, 2c, 2d and in the Development Program volume 3).

Answer: a. (100)

Sources: 2017 Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies: Chapter 7 (page 52): Financing and Debt Strategy and Appendix 3 Table 12 (page 102) - largely shows BY-2 as actuals (but for other tables BY-3), Stocks in Central Government Debt (shows BY-3), Table 9B Budgetary Government Expenditure for debt servicing it shows BY-2 as actuals VOLUME 2d 2017 BUDGET ESTIMATES FOR STATUTORY AUTHORITIES PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS DEBT SERVICES AND TRUST ACCOUNTS, SECTION (III) DETAILS OF DEBT SERVICES (page 335) show BY-2 as actuals http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/Vol2d-S tat%20Authorities,%20Prov.%20Govts,%20Debt%20Services%20in%20Trust%20Accounts.pdf">

Comments: Researcher: The public debt figures in Chapter 7 partly show BY-2 figures as (unaudited) actuals, but some are specified as estimates; Appendix 3, Table 12 reflect the BY-2 figures as estimates. The cost of debt servicing is shown in Volume 2d, Debt Services, as actuals and in summary form in Appendix 3, Table 9B as actuals. b. (67) Yes, the core information is presented for all extra-budgetary funds.

Answer: c. (33)

Sources: 2017 Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies: Chapter 4 Revenue makes reference to the Sovereign Wealth Fund, Stabilisation Fund and Savings Fund (page 25, 26). Chapter 8, National Reform Agenda, 8.4 (page 67) gives further detail on the Implementation of the Sovereign Wealth Fund, Chapter 9 ‘Improving State’s Commercial Interest’, notably 9.3, 9.4 and 9.5 including dividend policy, CSOs, PPPs, Investment Performance and reforms. Appendix 1, provides details of the Infrastructure Tax Credit Scheme (under the GFS 2014 methodology, TCF is no longer considered Government Revenue, along with Trust Accounts), Table 1.1 Summary of Infrastructure Tax Credit Scheme (this is effectively an expenditure program, offset against corporate tax revenue, sometimes ahead of expected tax for certain government projects).

Comments: Researcher: The core information is provided, but, as highlighted in the Budget Proposal itself in Chapter 9 ‘the Govt is undertaking major reforms to ensure prudent fiscal management of the use of public funds. There are many statutory bodies being set up and operating without a set of investment parameters or guidelines provided by Government..... part of the review deals with Public finance magement issues...as all funds received by Stat bodies must be paid without deduction in the Government's consolidated revenue fund...” Many government bodies (Statutory bodies and SOEs) have been receiving and spending public funds independently, in defiance or in the absence of clear guidelines. Areas where the Government is eager to secure the funds without prior deductions include, immigration permits, work permits, license fees, fees for services; royalties and certain other grants are largely handled on behalf of landowners and sub-national governments, but have lacked clear or timely accountability;

The Sovereign Wealth and stabilisation and savings fund have been slow in establishment and application, with well below forecast deposits, particularly with the major fall in commodity prices. Public concerns relate to financing arrangements for major resource and construction projects which may be undertaken thorough SOEs or other vehicles, imposing contingent liabilities on the State, and lack of public access to the contract arrangements. (the EITI process is helping expose and clarify arrangements related to the resource sector, but further progress is required particularly by some public institutions). Details of trust funds are provided in Volume 2d (section IV), highlighting (on page 379) that “the Public Accounts consists of the trust fund and the Consolidated Revenue Fund. The Trust Accounts are individual accounts that make up the trust accounts”, but they are also provided for under the Public Finance (management) act, which funded from different sources and for different users, including provided for landowners and others, Major efforts to rationalise the trust funds were announced in earlier budgets, but little specific reference to the outcome in the 2017 Budget.

34: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present central government finances (both budgetary and extra-budgetary) on a consolidated basis for at least the budget year?

a. (100) Yes, central government finances are presented on a consolidated basis.

b. (0) No, central government finances are not presented on a consolidated basis.

c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: b.

Sources: 2017, Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies: Appendix 3, Tables 8 and 9A and 9B, Central Government Revenue and Central Government Expenditure (page 95-97), Appendix 2, Tables 2.1 and 2.2 (pages 82-83) Grants and Transfers to Provinces; Tables 14 Sovereign Wealth Fund; and Chapter 4 Revenue and 6, “Expenditure” provides some combined detail on both Budget and some extra-budgetary funds collection, retention for the Budget year. Chapter 8 National Reform Agenda emphasises the need for greater consolidation.

Comments: Researcher: The Budget Proposal does provide, or seek to provide, central government finances, including transfers to sub-national governments, on a consolidated basis, although it recognizes that, despite financial instructions from the Treasury/Finance to all agencies (which are meant to carry legal authority), some of the substantial funds retained in Trust Funds and other off-budget arrangements are not routinely or necessarily accurately recorded and reflected in the Budget, including project expenditure from Kumul Holdings Ltd (the State’s SOE and equity holding corporation).

Comments: Researcher: The estimates provided in the summary tables (2.1 & 2.2) in Volume 1 are comprehensive (or at least intended to be such), comprising budget transfers (detailed in Table 2.1, including grants for personnel emoluments and goods and services), combined with tax transfer (shared GST etc), royalties and dividends, and own revenue, in table 2.2. The narrative in the Budget document (Chapter 6) is very brief, especially considering that it is the largest allocation in the Budget @ 27.2% of total. The National Economic & Fiscal Commission (NEFC - an Independent Constitutionally established advisory body), is required to provide a report on sub-national financing and advises the Treasurer on the amount to be distributed to each province each year on the basis of an equalisation provision, in relation to the total amount projected to be available in total in the budget. (The NEFC 2015 Report is currently available only in hard copy, online reporting seemingly very outdated)

36: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present alternative displays of expenditures (such as by gender, by age, by income, or by region) to illustrate the financial impact of policies on different groups of citizens, for at least the budget year?

a. (100) Yes, at least three alternative displays of expenditures are presented to illustrate the financial impact of policies on different groups of citizens.

b. (67) Yes, two alternative displays of expenditures are presented to illustrate the financial impact of policies on different groups of citizens.

c. (33) Yes, one alternative display of expenditures is presented to illustrate the financial impact of policies on different groups of citizens.

d. (0) No, alternative displays of expenditures are not presented to illustrate the financial impact of policies on different groups of citizens.

e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: d.

Sources: No alternative display is provided in the EBP

Comments: Researcher: No specific provision has been made for alternative Budgetary presentations, although an annual determination and report, based upon BY-2, is provided by the National Economic and Fiscal Commission (NEFC). NEFC is an independent Constitutional Advisory body which influences equalisation of allocations to the provinces and Local Level Governments, based upon the amount made available for sub-national distribution and the NEFC’s analysis of the cost of minimum priority activities and performance indicators. (The most recent NEFC fiscal report is only available in hard copy for 2015, and electronically for 2013.)

b. (67) Yes, estimates of all transfers to public corporations are presented, but a narrative discussion is not included.

c. (33) Yes, estimates of some but not all transfers to public corporations are presented.

d. (0) No, estimates of transfers to public corporations are not presented.

e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: a. (100)

Comments: Researcher: The State’s grants and loans to respective public corporations (and other entities in which it holds a stake), including the (non-minerals) holding corporation, Kumul Consolidated Holdings, are specified in Volume 2d and for specific project details in Volume 3, together with specific transfers to other companies, such as the power and telecommunications utilities, etc. (These figures don't include borrowings by the SOEs which might incur a liability on the State). Volume 1 provides details of equity in SOEs and resource projects in which there's a stake. It also provides policies or proposed policies, including with respect to financing and dividends, which have been administered inconsistently, and generally (according to recent ADB reports) at a poor level of performance. The administration of SOEs has been changing in recent years, albeit perhaps more in name than practice to date, but aspects of the policies on taking up equity, transfers, PPPs and dividends are still subject to review.

c. (33) Yes, information is presented, but it excludes some core elements or some quasi-fiscal activities.

d. (0) No, information related to quasi-fiscal activities is not presented.

e. Not applicable/other (please comment).
Answer: d.

Comments: Researcher: Minimal reference is made in Volume 1 to amounts of funding inadequately defined and reported upon under Trust Funds, and various other ill-defined expenditure, yet the Tax Credit Scheme is being used extensively for major urban infrastructure projects, and there are questions about the use of royalty funds held by MRDC on behalf of landowners for public, or publicly mandated projects. The National Gaming Control Board collects major revenue and funds a variety of sporting and other projects, without reference to the Budget process. The nature and operations of various trust funds continues to be deficient. The administration of the Sovereign Wealth Fund, will be subject to extensive rules, but full application and reporting through mandated procedures, including budgetary will be critical. The EITI reporting process is highlighting some of the weakness with respect to resource sector financial management and accountability, including over royalties and other landowner funds held by State entities and at risk of diversion. In Volume 2 (part 2) there is specific reference to a credit subsidy component through the National Development Bank - albeit part Budget funded. Some license fee revenue (e.g. collected by the National Fisheries Authority and some other authorities) is retained as institutional revenue, with lower so-called ‘dividends’ paid to the State.

IBP comment: Despite repeated requests to the Government of Papua New Guinea for its comments on the draft Open Budget Questionnaire results, IBP did not receive any response. The survey tool used, however, did not allow the government response to be left blank, and did not permit changes in the answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.

39: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present information on financial assets held by the government? (The core information must include a listing of the assets, and an estimate of their value.)

a. (100) Yes, information beyond the core elements is presented for all financial assets.
b. (67) Yes, the core information is presented for all financial assets.
c. (33) Yes, information is presented, but it excludes some core elements or some financial assets.
d. (0) No, information related to financial assets is not presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: c. (33)

Comments: Researcher: There is some information provided but not comprehensive and for 2015 not the Budget year, and leaves out details of the major resource sector equity (and debt), likewise the details of Trust funds are not comprehensive or fully updated. (with more information provided

The data is more current than for the last Open Budget survey, but (apart from the current trust fund estimated balances and the details of transactions) being 2015 data and with other limitations it will have to remain at D

Comments: Section 9.4, Table 21, page 85, Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies provides some information on the shareholdings of the Kumul Consolidated Holdings which oversees the management of the States infrastructure and service provision through its SOEs. KCH is the holding entity of assets formerly managed by the Independent Public Business Corporation (IPBC). Table 21 provides a summary of the shareholding of KCH which pays a dividend to the Government and for 2015 paid K310 million. I think it is fair to suggest that the Budget Proposal provides some information.

Answer: d.

Sources: apart from references to the need to upgrade and maintain infrastructure there is no reference to non-financial public assets in the 2017 Budget, Volume 1, Economic and Development Policies.

Comments: Researcher: Commitments have been made in the past to developing a 'whole of government Balance Sheet framework' embracing the various public sector institutions with responsibility for managing the State's assets. Work has also be done providing an inventory of infrastructure assets, at different tiers, for the purpose of maintenance or replacement, rather than an asset register for valuation. An impediment to financial or other assets records has been government operating 3 financial management systems, as highlighted in Chapter 8, National Reform Agenda, (IFMS, PGAS and also Oracle for the Works Dept); the National agencies are now all using IFMC and the provinces still on PGAS); when systems are rationalised (and IFMS is now being piloted in one province), there should be a better base for asset registers and financial and non-financial asset management.

Sources: 2017 National Budget Volume 1 Economic Development and Outlook (page15), ~2.8 Risks to the Economic and Fiscal Outlook, Chapter 3 Fiscal Strategy (page 15), Chapter 6 Expenditure (notably 6.5-6.7), Chapter 7 Financing and Debt Strategy (page 52) and Chapter 8 'National Reform Agenda’ (page 58 - #8.2.3) Appendix III, table 12, page 102, Stocks in Central Government Debt. These sections all highlight the problems with fiscal, including cash flow management, with uncertain revenue, and deficiencies in planning and timely expenditure, and they provide actions and intentions for improved fiscal planning and management, but don't provide details of the end of year arrears. Comments: Researcher: There is a breakdown on Public Debt (Appendix 3, Table 12), but only inferred reference to outstanding obligations, but extensive reference to the uncertainties of forecasting and receiving revenue and managing timely expenditure, and approaches to improving fiscal management. It's not specified in the Budget Proposal some of the (sometimes inadequate) mechanisms to limit arrears, such as early closure of the annual books, and in January 2016 the (legally questionable) cancellation of BY-1 Government cheques in mid-January, ostensibly to prevent the subsequent year's Budget being burdened with the previous year's overhang of expenditure, with new cheques being issued where deemed meritorious.

Answer: d.

Sources: 2014 National Budget, Volume 1 Economic Development Policies, Chapter 3, Fiscal Strategy and Outlook, makes reference in #2.8 Risks to the Economic and Fiscal Outlook to "exposure through debt guarantees and contingent liabilities...etc, Chapter 7 Financing and Debt Strategy (page 52) makes no reference to the level of contingent liabilities, except in terms of the focus on mitigating Operational Risk, such as fraud, legal settlement etc (page 57), nor Appendix III Table 12 (Stocks in Central Government Debt (page 102). Chapter *, National Reform Agenda refers to the backlog of Superannuation Liabilities under #8.2.6 (page 61), referring to the 'unfunded State liability' to the State Superannuation Fund (NSL), which "remains on the Government's balance sheet". http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/V/...

Comments: Researcher: As stated in Vol 1, Financing and Debt Strategy concern is raised over the growing level of debt and the need to manage it, including "the risk of loss due to operational failures, resulting from internal processes, people, systems, or external events...encompassing fraud, legal settlement, accounting, personnel and reputation risk". But other than stating the Government 'currently has a number of operational risks that it is endeavouring to manage" and earmarking a figure in the Budget Proposal for Court cases, there are no details provided of contingent liabilities. There is also reference to the outstanding superannuation liabilities, but merely states that these are included in the Government's balance sheet.

Comments: The researcher has identified the absence of information on contingent liabilities in the comments section. Oblique references to operational risks and 'managing contingent liabilities' in the narrative do not meet the core elements required for this question. There is no reference to contingent liabilities, no statement on the policy or purpose, any new contingent liabilities and a statement of the total amount outstanding if the liabilities are realised. PEFA 2015, point 5, states There are numerous statutory bodies fulfilling a range of commercial, social and regulatory functions together with 12 state-owned enterprises (SOEs) that are wholly-owned by the government. Many of these entities are several years in arrears in submitting their annual financial statements, and many have received audit disclaimers or adverse opinions... The legal basis for borrowing and the issuance of government guarantees is unclear, fragmented and to some degree contradictory. As a result there are gaps in the coverage of reports and some loans might not be reflected in the system. No register of the guarantees issued by the government has been set up (page 5). PEFA 2015, point 77, also states that there is no register of explicit contingent liabilities (including expenditure arrears, government guarantees or the potential losses from ongoing or pending court cases against the government) is maintained by the Treasury or the Department of Finance. Some information on government guarantees and pending court cases is kept by the Attorney General's Department but this information is not shared with Treasury or the Department of Finance. Furthermore, there is a substantial volume of on-lending by the government to SOEs, but no register of the guarantees associated with such borrowing is maintained by the central departments, or by KHC (IPBC).

Sources: 2017 National Budget Volume 1 Economic Development Policies, Appendix 1, Tables 1.1-1.4 on the Infrastructure Tax Credit Scheme (which provides agreed public goods, in lieu of paying taxation, which is not a subsidy to the respective company, but may provide some direct or indirect benefit to that the company), and Incentives under the Income Tax Act (with permanent loss of revenue), Incentives under the Income Tax Act with Deferral of if revenue, and Exemptions under the Stamp Duties Act. Chapter 4 on Revenue and Chapter 5 Tax and Non-Tax Measures and Developments both highlight deficiencies in revenue, including from extensive tax exemptions (notably from the resource sector), and highlight the intended reforms to standardise and reduce the level of tax expenditure (e.g. removal of double deduction on exploration expenses) http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/Vol1-Economic%20and%20Development%20Policies.pdf

Comments: Researcher: The infrastructure tax credit scheme is (arguably) not strictly a tax expenditure as it is an exemption from tax for providing agreed public (rather than strictly private) goods, although there may be private benefits as well (notably from improved local infrastructure and community service benefits); details of its application are in Appendix 1 of Volume 1 (Table 1.1); details (or partial details) are provided to BY-2 and estimates for BY-1. The other more strictly Tax Expenditure is detailed in the other tables of Appendix 1, but there is no explanation of their functions, as there are no adjustments to their application. Details of the use of mining and petroleum double deductions are not included in these tables (rationalising the idiosyncrasies of the taxes is a focus of the 2017 Budget, as highlighted in the proposal and of the recent Tax Review).

Sources: 2017 National Budget Volume 1 Economic Development Policies : Chapter 6: Expenditure highlights the shortfall in revenue and the need for reforms in operational and capital budgets, and therefore in #6.5 the application of Non Financial Instructions, with requirements for self-financing by Statutory authorities, mergers and other rationalisation, but the text is strong on intent and limited in specifics. Similar intents are specified in Chapter 8, National Report Agenda, referring to public sector reform and mergers of departments etc, but few specifics are provided. (Unlike hitherto there few specific references to agencies, which receives their income directly from revenue collection, but Chapter 5, Tax and Non-Tax Measures, #5.2.5 (page 30) ‘Improving Road Network’.. specifies the estimated transfer in 2017 under Amended legislation from excise on diesel collected by Customs payable directly to the National Road Authority. Commercial Statutory Authority have autonomy to collect their own revenue, but, here’s ambiguity over requirements to be self-sufficient (and as SOEs pay dividends, but also provide Community Service Obligations) and to transfer revenue to Consolidated revenue. http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/Vol1-Economic%20and%20Development%20Policies.pdf) 2017 Budget Estimates...Volume 2a, Section II (page 44), Details of Revenue, Grants and Loan Estimates, Department and General Revenue (Page 44) provides details of sources of tax, customs and other revenue, some of which is earmarked (such as fuel levy for NRA road maintenance operations), or retained in trust funds by the respective agency, e.g. Work Permit fees, but where financial instructions have been issued for them to be remitted to Consolidated Revenue http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/Vol2a-Revenue%20and%20Expenditure%20National%20Govt%20Depts.pdf Volume 2d 2017, Budget Estimates For Statutory Authorities, Provincial Governments, Debt Services and Trust Accounts Section IV, Details of Trust Accounts, (page 379), details trust accounts accumulated from different sources, including direct government grants, including from donor funded projects, but also some directly financed (although Dept of Finance has been directing the discontinuation of this practice, and requiring the direct remission to consolidated revenue http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/Vol2d-47: Does the Executive's Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present information on how the proposed budget (both new proposals and existing policies) is linked to government's policy goals for the budget year?

a. (100) Yes, estimates that show how the proposed budget is linked to all the government’s policy goals for the budget year are presented, along with a narrative discussion.

b. (67) Yes, estimates that show how the proposed budget is linked to all the government’s policy goals for the budget year are presented, but a narrative discussion is not included.

c. (33) Yes, information that shows how the proposed budget is linked to some but not all of the government’s policy goals for the budget year is presented.

d. (0) No, information on the link between the budget and the government’s stated policy goals for the budget year is not presented.

e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: c. (33)

Sources: 2017 National Budget Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies in Chapter 1, Budget Overview, Chapter 3 ‘Fiscal Strategy and Outlook’ provides some linkage (notably in #3.2) between the 2017 Budget Strategy and the overarching government policies, including Medium Term Development and Fiscal Strategies (and related legislation, e.g. Fiscal Responsibility Act etc), despite the tight fiscal conditions. Chapter 5, Tax and non-Tax Measures and Developments, links new tax and non-tax revenue measures to the recommendations of the Government’s recent tax review, including the first measures to implement some of its recommendations. Chapter 6, Expenditure, claims to link expenditure under current tight fiscal condition with underlying economic and development policies, related to stable macro-economic management and sector priorities (although there appear to be some significant incongruities, with heavy expenditure on certain major prestige projects, squeezing out priority expenditure). Chapter 8, National Reform Agenda, also gives major focus on links between longer term government strategies, in advancing public sector performance, and business and financial sector performance, in meeting local needs, including through consumer protection and competition.

Comments: Researcher: In the light of tight fiscal conditions (as a result of low commodity prices, but also heavy expenditure and borrowing in recent years) the Budget Proposal focuses on linking revenue and expenditure measures with adherence to the priorities spelled out in the government’s medium and longer term plans and strategies (and legislative requirements). With tight revenue conditions and substantial existing debt and commitments, the Budget is constrained, and there will be perceptions that other, shorter term initiatives have sidelined some of the longer term stated development priorities.
48: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present information on how the proposed budget (both new proposals and existing policies) is linked to government’s policy goals for a multi-year period (for at least two years beyond the budget year)?

a. (100) Yes, estimates that show how the proposed budget is linked to all the government’s policy goals for a multi-year period are presented, along with a narrative discussion.

b. (67) Yes, estimates that show how the proposed budget is linked to all the government’s policy goals for a multi-year period are presented, but a narrative discussion is not included.

c. (33) Yes, information that shows how the proposed budget is linked to some but not all of the government’s policy goals for a multi-year period is presented.

d. (0) No, information on the link between the budget and the government’s stated policy goals for a multi-year period is not presented.

e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: c. (33)

Sources: 2017 Budget Volume 1 Economic and Development Policies in the foreword emphasises the links with the longer term 40 year, 20 year and 5 year visions, strategies and plans (page 1), albeit that the current extended Medium Term Development Strategy only stretches to 2017. Chapter 1, Budget Overview and Chapter 3 ‘Fiscal Strategy and Outlook’ provide some linkage between the 2017 planned Expenditure and the existing Medium Term Development Plan and other longer term overarching strategies (p. 15), including the narrative on tight fiscal constraints, outstanding debt situation which shadow the Budget proposal. Chapter 3 and chapter 7, Financing and Debt Strategy, provide links with the extended Medium Term Fiscal and Debt strategies (17-18 and on p. 54). Chapter 8 National Reform Agenda seeks to demonstrate continuity and consistency with longer term strategies, which it does to some extent on #8.2.1 over Equitable Resource Allocations, and some other sections, although implementation of some of these long established policies has been slow, such as 8.4 Sovereign Wealth Fund etc.

Comments: Researcher: There is extensive reference in Volume 1, economic and development policies, on linkages with the longer term policies and some narrative highlighting the links, but also the constraints imposed by current fiscal conditions, but there’s little attempt to quantify, except, briefly, in the Volume 3 Public Investment Plan, which provides linkages with the key longer term plans and priorities and enablers with actual capital expenditure.

Comments: I do not think it is clear that how the proposed budget (both new proposals and existing policies) is linked to government’s policy goals for a multi-year period. There is some financial information included in programs and some narrative that suggests a focus on a multi-year period. However, there is no information that says, for example, Tuition Fee Free Education is estimated to be X million for 2018 and Y million in 2019. I believe that the response to this question is somewhere between ‘c’ and ‘d’.

52: Does the Executive’s Budget Proposal or any supporting budget documentation present estimates of policies (both new proposals and existing policies) that are intended to benefit directly the country’s most impoverished populations in at least the budget year?

a. (100) Yes, estimates of all policies that are intended to benefit directly the country’s most impoverished populations are presented, along with a narrative discussion.
b. (67) Yes, estimates of all policies that are intended to benefit directly the country’s most impoverished populations are presented, but a narrative discussion is not included.

d. (0) No, estimates of policies that are intended to benefit directly the country’s most impoverished populations are not presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: c. (33)

Comments: Researcher: There is no systematic provision of material in the Budget proposal to provide estimates of policies designed to benefit the most impoverished populations. There are a few programs explicitly designed to assist more remote or disadvantaged groups, with some details provided in Volumes 3 (including in the foreword, with its emphasis on the MTDS2 priorities, related to access to basic services and communications, and related new policies on WaSH, population planning and related issues and new 2016 legislation linking the Budget to a set of planning frameworks and minimum standards), but it receives relatively limited specific attention in the 2017 Budget proposal, (especially with major cuts being made to some of these programs in 2017 in the face of tight fiscal conditions, to provide for other capital initiatives). Some details are provided in the Volume 1 of the allocations for all districts under the Service Improvement Program grants and what they’re intended to be for; and in Volume 3 on the Capital Investment Program. Volume 1 also provides some information on the Education, Health, Communications, financial inclusion, Gender/Community protection and inter-provincial budget equalization initiative, guided annually by the National Economic and Fiscal Commission. Further details on these reforms (designed to partly reduce inter-provincial inequitable funding) are provided in the NEFC’s own report provided concurrently with the tabling of the annual Budget.)

53: Does the executive release to the public its timetable for formulating the Executive’s Budget Proposal (that is, a document setting deadlines for submissions from other government entities, such as line ministries or subnational government, to the Ministry of Finance or whatever central government agency is in charge of coordinating the budget’s formulation)?

a. (100) Yes, a detailed timetable is released to the public.
b. (67) Yes, a timetable is released, but some details are excluded.
c. (33) Yes, a timetable is released, but it lacks important details.
54: Does the Pre-Budget Statement present information on the macroeconomic forecast upon which the budget projections are based? (The core information must include a discussion of the economic outlook with estimates of nominal GDP level, inflation rate, real GDP growth, and interest rates.)

a. (100) Yes, information beyond the core elements is presented for the macroeconomic forecast.
b. (67) Yes, the core information is presented for the macroeconomic forecast.
c. (33) Yes, information is presented, but it excludes some core elements.
d. (0) No, information related to the macroeconomic forecast is not presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: d.

Sources: The PBS did not meet the required timeline of being released at least one month before the Budget was tabled. (The Treasurer argued that the 2016 Supplementary Budget tabled in August 2016 can be seen as an interim de-facto PBS, tentatively complying with the requirements of the Fiscal Responsibility Act, requiring a PBS at least 3 months in advance of the tabling of the ERP, but this is tenuous, considering the limited economic information provided in the Supplementary Budget, particularly with respect to 2017 forecasts) 2017 Budget Strategy Paper, F.1 2017 to 2021 Economic Outlook on pages 10-11. http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/FINAL%202017%20BUDGET%20STRATEGY%20PAPER%20%2029%20OCT%202016.pdf

Comments: Researcher: Although prepared, the PBS was not publicly released on a timely or relevant basis. (A brief presentation of macro-economic conditions was provided upon which the 2017 Budget preparation was undertaken (as required under the Fiscal Responsibility Act 2006, albeit belatedly). Only real GDP growth rates are shown for total and non-mineral GDP, but not nominal growth rates. Also, the Kina Facility Rate is used to indicate interest rates; this however is the official rate, and has been set at this rate since the mid-2000s, and is hardly an accurate reflection of market conditions.)
56: Does the Pre-Budget Statement present information on the government’s revenue policies and priorities that will guide the development of detailed estimates for the upcoming budget? (The core information must include a discussion of revenue policies and priorities and an estimate of total revenues.)

a. (100) Yes, information beyond the core elements is presented for the government’s revenue policies and priorities.
b. (67) Yes, the core information is presented for the government’s revenue policies and priorities.
c. (33) Yes, information is presented, but it excludes some core elements.
d. (0) No, information related to the government’s revenue policies and priorities is not presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Sources: The 2017 PBS did not meet the required timeline of being released at least one month before the Budget was tabled. (The Treasurer argued that the Fiscal Responsibility Act requirement for a PBS to be provided 3 months in advance of the EBP could be deemed to have been complied with, by the tabling of the 2016 Supplementary Budget in August 2016, which presents some of the economic details required of the PBS, but this argument was tenuous as there's virtually no reference to 2017 fiscal forecasting in the 2016 Supplementary Budget) 2017 Budget Strategy Paper, D.1 Revenue (page 8) D.1.1 Revenue Reforms (page 9), F.2.1 Medium Term Revenue (page 11) Medium Term Fiscal Strategy (MTFS) 2017 – 2021 (page 15) http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2017/FINAL%202017%20BUDGET%20STRATEGY%20PAPER%20%2029%20OCT%202016.pdf http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2016/2... Comments: Researcher: The PBS was not released in a timely manner (The Pre-Budget Statement provides the core requirements on expenditure, including brief specification of priorities and estimates of expenditure in the context of major and continued reduction in levels of revenue forecast, with the downturn in commodity prices and related factors. There are related policies to restrain the level of contingent liabilities and better management and classification of expenditure.)

Comments: Researcher: The PBS for 2017 was not released in a timely manner (The level and sustainability of debt is a major concern and focus of the 2017 PBS, and although expresses confidence that it's within sustainable levels (debt to GDP figures provided) raises the risks, including from contingent liabilities, and presents measures to manage debt and debt risks. 58: Does the Pre-Budget Statement present estimates of total expenditures for a multi-year period (at least two-years beyond the budget year)?

Answer: a. (100)

Comments: Researcher: On the basis that the EBP documents comprise the details of the EB (see above wording of the EB), the response to the same question (covering application estimates for all programs) is considered correct as for the similar question (no 6) under EBP (although in this case the 2016 Budget details are provided On this basis the EB also provides estimates by all three classifications

Answer: a. (100)

Comments: Researcher: The enacted Budget does not detail sources of revenue, except with respect to the new taxes and other revenue sources approved in legislation. However, as the EBP is accepted in its entirety unaltered, once passed, the EBP estimates become the revenue estimates for the EB (as well as the detailed breakdown of the expenditure under the Appropriation Acts). Government revenues are broken into Tax Revenue: Tax on Income, Goods and Services , International Trades etc. and Non Tax Revenues: Property Income, Trust Accounts, Interest & Fees from lending and assets sales etc....

Sources: The enacted Budget ( Appropriations and related legislation) do not provide estimates related to borrowing and debt, but as the Budget is adopted in its entirety, effectively the Executive’s Budget Proposal is treated by Government (and others) as the enacted Budget. 2016 Budget, Volume 1, Economic and Development Policies, Appendix 3, Table 10(I) (page 117), TRANSACTIONS IN ASSETS AND LIABILITIES FOR CENTRAL GOVERNMENT and Table 12, STOCKS IN CENTRAL GOVERNMENT DEBT. The former includes the level of amortisation and new instruments, latter provides levels of domestic and external public debt by component in summary. http://www.treasury.gov.pg/html/national_budget/files/2016/V... However, this is a legal issue, of required approval, rather than an accounting issue, as the Volume 1 does provide for the amortisation and new instruments and net associated costs and servicing costs. Another issue of concern, seems to be variation between the figures appropriated, and approved by the legislature (for General Public Goods and Services, Parliament and Judiciary) and those shown in the volumes of the EB (which, as stated in the Appropriation Act itself, provides the details of the EB). But these variations are found within the EBP itself, between the background documents and the what is tabled and presented to Parliament at the same time, and included in the Bills. This may be partly, but not fully explained by last minutes changes even in the final days and hours before tabling of the Budget. (Further clarification is being sought on this)

Comments: Researcher: The enacted Budget (Appropriations and related legislation) do not provide estimates related to borrowing and debt, but effectively the Executive's Budget Proposal becomes the Enacted Budget once passed by the Legislature. This is provided in aggregate in Volume 1, in the text with some analysis of the debt history in Chapter 3: Fiscal Strategy and Outlook and Chapter 6: Financing and Debt Strategy.

Opinion: Agree with Comments
Comments: The following points need to be clarified: 1. The three estimates appear in various tables and documents. There is a not a collective table that provides all three estimates together. Hence, it is difficult to get a complete picture. 2. The comment that the Enacted Budget is the EBY as it is adopted in entirety may not be quite correct. The 2017 budget expenditure in Vol 1 is listed as K13349.5, page ii, Volume 1, table 9A it is closer to K13349.6, in the Treasurer's speech it is K12,965.4 (page 5), Hansard 1/11/2016, it is K12965.4 (page 6) and the Appropriation Act, it is K17,157.8 for operational expenditure. Hence, I am not sure that the EB can be assumed to be the EBY in this case. Note the comments at https://pngwoman.com/incorrect-2016-and-correct-2017-national-budget-appropriations. The differences in the Appropriation may be due to debt that is maturing and needs to be repaid. However, this is not clear.

Government Reviewer

Researcher response: Indeed, in the 2016 Budget there is a serious omission on the expenditure side, that to this date has still not been corrected. It invariably also impacts the figures used on the borrowing/debt requirements. The legislature appropriated only the recurrent and capital expenditure, excluding the expenditure for public debt charges, including for rolling over/buying back debt. The score was revised to “b”.

Answer: d.

Sources: No In-Year Reports have been produced for several years

Comments: Researcher: No In-Year Reports have been produced for several years, partly as a result of the incompatibility of the 3 Financial Management Systems being used; With all Departments now reported on the new Integrated Financial Management System (IFMS) and now starting to be piloted in the provinces, hopefully In-Year reports will recommence again.
75: Do In-Year Reports present information related to the composition of the total actual debt outstanding? (The core information must include interest rates on the debt instruments; maturity profile of the debt; and whether it is domestic or external debt.)

a. (100) Yes, information beyond the core elements is presented for the composition of the total actual debt outstanding.
b. (67) Yes, the core information is presented for the composition of the total actual debt outstanding.
c. (33) Yes, information is presented, but it excludes some core elements.
d. (0) No, information related to composition of total actual debt outstanding is not presented.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Comments: Researcher: There is no breakdown by program in the 2016 Mid-year Economic and Fiscal Outlook report. It’s broken down by agencies, and then further broken down into operational and capital expenditure, and then further into personnel emoluments and goods and services. Only a very small number of government ‘priority’ priority expenditure, including various programs are specified, notably in Table 17 in the Appendices: Summary by Government Priorities, and in the tables under .5 STATUS OF TRUST ACCOUNTS (page 12)

80: Does the Mid-Year Review of the budget include updated revenue estimates for the budget year underway?

Answer: b. (67)

Sources: Mid Year Economic and Fiscal Outlook Report 2016. # 1.6 FINANCING (page 25) text and Tables 15-17 and # 1.7 PUBLIC DEBT (page 26) text and Table 18. In # 1.10, Fiscal Outturn Tables, TABLE 3 (I) (page 29): TRANSACTIONS IN ASSETS AND LIABILITIES FOR CENTRAL GOVERNMENT (including external and domestic liabilities) and TABLE 2 (page 31): CENTRAL GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURE AND NET LENDING.

Comments: Researcher: Estimates of Governments borrowing and debts are updated in the Mid Year Report. Table 3 (I) in the fiscal outturn tables, provides details of new borrowing and amortisation, as budgeted, mid-year and estimates for the full year, and summarised in tables 15-17 in the main text, with net borrowing (external and domestic). Table 18 provides a summary of the prevailing mid-year debt level and forecast by year end. Table 2 in the fiscal outturn tables provides the cost of debt servicing. There is brief information on the maturity of borrowing under domestic funding (page 25), but nothing on interest rates. The forward estimates are on assumptions based on information available at the time of the publication. Some degree of uncertainty is attached to the estimates, with concern over levels of contingent liabilities, and debt levels carried by SOEs carrying sovereign liability.

Peer Reviewer
Opinion: Agree with Comments
Comments: There isn’t a summary page that meets all of the criteria for this questions. Most of the information is reported however, a summary of the interest rates by debt instrument is not available. the researcher also points out that contingent liabilities, guarantees and debt levels of SOEs are also of concern.

Answer: (b. 67)

Sources: Final Budget Outcome Report 2015, #1.3 EXPENDITURE AND NET LENDING, tables 8–12 (pages 9-11) are essentially summary administrative expenditure tables; TABLE B (page 20): CENTRAL GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURE, is broken by administrative types and summary economic classifications; PART 2 FINAL BUDGET OUTCOME BY AGENCY, Table 18 Expenditure by Sectors (page 23) with accompanying text: Tables 19-29 provide a detailed listing agency by agency, divided by sector and broken down into capital and operation, personnel emoluments and goods and services, with attachments A-D (pages 64-85) providing details by administrative units, Departments, Statutory Authorities and Provinces, with the latter broken up into economic and some functional categorisation.

Comments: Researcher: The year-end expenditure is provided by Administrative and Economic classification in summary and in detail in the subsequent tables, where there's also a sector break up, and for the provinces some functional references (but that's really related to specific functional grants, rather than the system of classification). There is no overall breakdown of the entire budget in aggregate by Agency by functional classification.

Answer: a. (100)

Sources: Final Budget Outcome Report 2015, # 1.2 REVENUE (page 5-8) the summary Table 2 (with accompanying narrative) differentiates Tax and Non-Tax (etc) revenue, Table 3 is the summary of main categories of Tax revenue, Table 7 summarises Non-Tax Revenue, and grants are included in the narrative (page 8). TABLE A (page 19) : CENTRAL GOVERNMENT REVENUE provides totals and further breakdown of tax and non-tax revenue.

d. (0) No, the Year-End Report does not present individual sources of revenue.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: a. (100)

Sources: Final Budget Outcome Report 2015, # 1.2 REVENUE (page 5-8) the summary Table 3 (with accompanying narrative) differentiates the categories of Tax revenue, Table 4-6 further breaks down Tax revenue into components of income and profits taxes, domestic trade and international trade taxes, Table 7 breaks up the Non-Tax Revenue. TABLE A (page 19) : CENTRAL GOVERNMENT REVENUE provides totals and further breakdown between and within categories of tax and non-tax revenue.

Comments: Researcher: Tables 4-7 (and accompanying narrative) provide a breakdown of the tax and non-tax revenue sources, which are also provided in a single Table A. These remain summarised figures and the Fiscal Outturn report does not provide the itemised revenue and revenue sources provided in the Executive’s Budget Proposal Department and Agency by Agency, or details of non-budgetary income.

97: What type of audits (compliance, financial, or performance) has the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) conducted and made available to the public?

a. (100) The SAI has conducted all three types of audits (compliance, financial, or performance) and made them available to the public.
b. (67) The SAI has conducted two of the three types of audits, and made them available to the public.
c. (33) The SAI has conducted one of the three types of audits, and made them available to the public.
d. (0) The SAI has not conducted any of the three types of audits, or has not made them available to the public.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: d.

Comments: Researcher: The Annual Audits, as contained in the SAI’s audit reports of the Public Accounts and Specific Departments, Provincial Governments (etc), Authorities and State Enterprises, cover financial and regulatory components and compliance. The SAI also has been undertaking at least one Performance Audit and Special Review Reports per annum, as highlighted under ‘sources’ above. However, on the basis of the delays in publishing (most of) the audit reports, it is recorded as not meeting the required criteria, hence ‘D’. Most of the audits reports have not been released to the public in a timely manner to meet the requirements of this survey, although in many cases the reports were prepared by the SAI within the 18 month deadline. Although audits for BY-2 have been completed partially, they have not yet been presented to the Legislature or (therefore been allowed to be) released to the public. There is both a severe lag in government Departments/agencies submitting financial statements for audit, and the Supreme Audit being able to complete the audit and have the Legislature table them, for them to become public documents. Only a portion of the whole government budget for BY-3 has been released to the public. Part 4, covering State Authorities and SOEs, however, has been tabled and published for 2015, within the deadline, although the audits for some of the organisations contained in the report were still long overdue. Independence and external audit of the government’s financial statements “This indicator assesses the quality of the external audit function and the degree to which audits identify and promote changes to address systemic issues. Summary of Scores (scoring Method M1): - Independence and external audit of the government’s financial statements 2015: Assessment: Overall Score D+ (i) A: There is annual coverage of all government entities, using professional standards and highlighting material issues and systemic risks. (ii) D In the last three years there has been a delay of at least 12 months between submission of the Public Accounts to AGO and the submission of the statements along with the audit report. (iii) C There is some evidence of systematic follow up of AGO reports but it may not be timely. (iv) C The AGO has adequate independence except for the determination of its budget and staffing numbers.”

98: What percentage of expenditures within the mandate of the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) has been audited?
a. (100) All expenditures within the SAI’s mandate have been audited.
b. (67) Expenditures representing at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures within the SAI’s mandate have been audited.
c. (33) Expenditures representing less than two-thirds of expenditures within the SAI’s mandate have been audited.
d. (0) No expenditures have been audited.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: d.

Comments: Researcher: As most of the audits have not been released to the public in a timely manner to meet the requirements of this survey (despite, in many cases, being prepared within the time framework), it has been marked as ‘D’ However, part 4 of the Report for BY-1 being released within 18 months for Authorities and SOEs. A major portion of government entities and public funds have been subject to the audit process over the past year, albeit that the reports have not been published in a timely manner, and albeit that for a substantial portion of government entities the audit process is still working through a backlog of earlier years’ accounts, perhaps in a somewhat unsystematic manner, leaving a large portion of By-2 accounts unaudited. Lack of funding and capacity at the SAI to address the current and accumulated backlog of accounts, combined with poor capacity and compliance to submit accounts for audit in a well-prepared and timely manner by many of the roughly 1,000 government entities involved, and procedural restraints, notably requiring the tabling of the reports in the Legislature before they can be released to the public, all combine to restrain the timely coverage of audits of public finance and state institutions.

99: What percentage of extra-budgetary funds within the mandate of the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) has been audited?

a. (100) All extra-budgetary funds within the SAI’s mandate have been audited.
b. (67) Extra-budgetary funds accounting for at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures associated with extra-budgetary funds within the SAI’s mandate have been audited.
c. (33) Extra-budgetary funds accounting for less than two-thirds of expenditures associated with extra-budgetary funds within the SAI’s mandate have been audited.
d. (0) No extra-budgetary funds have been audited.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: d.

Comments: Researcher: Most of the audits have not been released to the public in a timely manner to meet the requirements of this survey. However, much of the extra-budgetary funds are held by the Statutory Authorities and SOEs, which have been audited for 2015 within the allowable reporting timeframe for the Survey. Some have fallen under the Performance audit special purposes audits conducted by the SAI in recent years. As stated in the 2015 PEFA report (undertaken by the IMF) *Various statutory bodies collect significant amounts of own-source revenue, which are not generally reported in the budget documents or the annual public accounts. A list provided by the DoF indicates there are some 138 such national bodies of varying size and importance. About half of these bodies receive budget funding but also retain significant amounts of own-source revenue. These entities include the Housing Corporation, the Civil Aviation Authority, the Airport Authority and the National Roads Authority. Each statutory body prepares separate financial statements which disclose their overall financial operations, both budget-funded and financed from own-source revenue. A review of these financial statements is provided in Part 4 of the Auditor-General’s annual report on public bodies and national government owned companies but no consolidated financial information is presented Trust Accounts. The budget documents and public accounts include many hundreds of trust accounts which are used in some cases to by-pass the annual appropriations process under which appropriations lapse at the end of the fiscal year. A 2013 performance audit by the AGO on trust account operations notes the limited scrutiny of their operations and the difficulty of identifying all trust accounts. Data on the balances of unknown trust accounts are not available. External sources of finance. A number of private donors including for example, the Clinton Foundation and the Global Foundation for Health provide funding to various national health and education programs. These funds are not shown in the budget documents and departmental appropriations and are retained by those departments. Nor is the expenditure from these funds recorded in government accounting reports. * Despite recent efforts by some institutions to exempt themselves from the purview of the Supreme Audit, the Constitution of Papua New Guinea does not limit the SAI, and indeed requires it to audit (or commission audits on) all public bodies, including those set up by an act of Parliament etc (unless specific law specifies otherwise) and even then the SAI has the power to inspect if it chooses, wherever public funds are entailed. With SOEs it has the power to undertake audits under specific legislation (notably the Public Finances (Management) Act and the Audit Act) However, there remains a major backlog, with only minority of Statutory Bodies and SOEs had completed their audits by mid BY-2, as required by law, and for BY-4 only still less than 1/2 had completed their audits. The performance audits only scratch the surface, with Trust Funds (and District Grants), which should all be within-budget, rather than extra-budget, however, in many cases have been designed to operate as the latter. The introduction and rolling out of updated and better synchronised financial classifications and managements systems over the past 3 years, should improve the tracking of public funds by Government (Finance Dept) and through the audit process.

100: Does the annual Audit Report(s) prepared by the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) include an executive summary?

a. (100) Yes, the annual Audit Report(s) includes one or more executive summaries summarizing the report’s content.

b. (0) No, the annual Audit Report(s) does not include an executive summary.

c. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: b.

Comments: Researcher: At this stage, partly owing to the delays in being able to table the SIA's report to the Legislature, and therefore to be able to release it as a 'public document' to the public (under current requirements), most Parts of the annual Audit Report (including Part 1, the Audit of the Public Account), fail to meet the 18 month deadline required in this survey. However, in 2018, Part 3 of the Report covering Statutory Authorities and SOEs, etc, for 2015 have come within the time limit. In any case, the annual audits (and, incidentally, the performance and special purpose audits) do come with Executive Summaries and the performance audits, which focus on particular themes of public concern, have also incorporated more innovative presentations and summaries of key findings and recommendations, key themes etc, which could capture wider interest.

101: Does the executive make available to the public a report on what steps it has taken to address audit recommendations or findings that indicate a need for remedial action?

b. (67) Yes, the executive reports publicly on most audit findings.

The Office of the Auditor General (AGO) undertakes financial, compliance and performance audits. The audits follow a systems and risk-based approach. The Public Accounts Committee (PAC) holds in-depth hearings on the AGO’s reports, and also makes recommendations, focusing on entities which have received adverse comments. There is little evidence, however, that the findings and recommendations of AGO or PAC reports are followed up systematically. This finding reflects the absence of effective accountability mechanisms in the Government, and the absence of legal recourse to impose penalties on non-complying officials for breaches of the law and financial misconduct.

Comments: Researcher: At this stage, partly owing to the delays in being able to table the SIA’s report to the Legislature, and therefore to be able to release it as a ‘public document’ to the public (under current requirements), most Parts of the annual Audit Report (including Part 1, the Audit of the Public Account), fail to meet the 18 month deadline required in this survey. However, in 2018, Part 3 of the Report covering Statutory Authorities and SOEs, etc, for 2015 have coming within the time limit. As highlighted in the 2015 PEFA report, there’s no systematic government system of response to the SAI’s (and associated Public Accounts Committee’s) reports. There’s no formal response from the Executive, although there may be individual responses by Ministers to questions raised in Parliament in response during the tabling of the Audit reports, although they’re almost always just tabled, but there may be a little more response following questioning and presentation of reports from the Parliamentary Public Accounts Committee (notably after it gains some media coverage). As highlighted in the Auditor General’s reports a few (but surprisingly few) of the Government Departments/Agencies do respond to their draft institutional audit report and management letter from the SAI, upon a written invitation by the Auditor-General, and their responses (if any) are recorded in the Auditor report to Parliament, but there seem to be few or no repercussions, at this stage, from failure respond, institutionally, or by government as a while; as the PEFA assessment highlights, this seems to indicate the absence of effective accountability mechanisms in the Government, and the absence of legal recourse...

102: Does either the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) or legislature release to the public a report that tracks actions taken by the executive to address audit recommendations?

http://www.parliament.nsw.gov.au/prod/web/common.nsf/key/ACP [Comment]: Researcher: Awaiting feedback from AGOs office and restoration of their website The public release of audits falls outside the time period allowed, partly because of the late tabling of Audit Reports in Parliament. The SAI does provide a management letter highlighting deficiencies identified in the audit and enabling the relevant Government department/agency to respond, advising what action it plans to do to address the issue. That response, if any, (and for the 2013 Audit Report on National Government Departments very few chose to respond) is then included in the final audit report submitted to the Legislature and then made available publicly. The Parliamentary Public Accounts Committee subsequently examines the audits for selected Government Depts/Agencies and holds Public Hearings with the management of those Departments (although recently in 2016 some have been held with the public denied attendance). The outcomes of the Hearing are usually made available during press statements from the Committee Chairman, however this is generally years after the expenditure has occurred. The failure by Government agencies to respond to Audits and management letters from the SAI, highlighting long standing governance and implementation deficiencies, is indicated in the (attached) short report by the PAC Chairman to a regional committee of Public Accounts Committees (ACPAC)

Answer: d.

Sources: The National Economic and Fiscal Commission (NEFC) is Fiscal Council type of IFI. It is a Constitutional Office, established at PNG’s Independence under Sn 187H of the National Constitution to ‘assess and monitor the economic and fiscal policies of the National Government, Provincial Governments and Local Level Government and make recommendations to Government and Parliament on financial allocations etc. For several years NEFC was inoperative but was restored in the early 2000s and has undertaken valuable annual studies of subnational financial and fiscal disbursement of functional grants at the sub-national level. It has a small staff of about 14 staff and undertakes valuable research and fund allocation, and has made significant impact on resource allocation and redistribution to the provincial level. It doesn’t have pretensions however, to oversee overall national fiscal policy and its application, although its power (but not funding) could extend to cover wider fiscal management.

Peer Reviewer

Opinion: Disagree

Suggested answer: d.

Comments: The main function of the NEFC is to provide independent policy advice to the national government on the distribution of operational (goods and services) grants to the provinces and to local-level governments which is perhaps 4- 5% of the total PNG budget (source: http://nefc.gov.pg/ceo.html (http://nefc.gov.pg/ceo.html)) and around 85% of the people the PNG that are in rural areas. The NEFC mission is to provide advice to the government on intergovernmental financing. The NEFC is an adviser to Government. Its role is to recommend how to distribute the function grants amongst the Provinces and LLGs. The Treasurer then makes a determination of how the function grants will be distributed based on the advice provided by NEFC. It would be difficult to accept that the NEFC can be categorised as an IFI. The Plans and Estimates Committee is charged with consulting with the National Executive Council before any budget or appropriation is prepared for submission to the Parliament, in accordance with Section 209 (3) of the Constitution. However, there is no evidence that it has met with the NEC and influenced the budget. This committee does not meet the requirements for an IFI either.

Researcher response: I would have to agree with you that in practice this is how the NEFC has evolved, which is a valuable role/niche, including an input into the annual budget process, with respect to inter-governmental funding, and advising the Government and Parliament accordingly. Under the Constitution its role was envisaged as potentially having a wider remit (and certainly included more of an economic composition in late 70s/early 80s, including a Budget of its own to facilitate some budget reallocations, perhaps more aligned to IFI.. but that wasn’t the path it followed, or was allowed to follow. I have revised the score to “d”.

Comments: Researcher: The Legislature is not empowered to initiate the raising of taxation, expenditure etc, but is empowered to amend the annual Budget Appropriation and taxation laws, but only downwards (with sightly different restraints upon the allocation approved for the Judiciary). In practice the Budget is presented and accepted in totality, usually after brief debate (assuming the Executive has the numbers), or otherwise rejected if it doesn't have the required numbers. Prior modifications may occur following its consideration by the Plans and Estimates Committee, prior to presentation to Parliament, but in practice this is most unlikely, especially as that committee is currently reported to be inoperative. If the Opposition has the numbers to amend the Budget they may use that power to reject the Budget in totality (in which case a 'Supply Bill' is automatically applied, comprising a portion of the previous year's Budget).

Sources: The Public Finances (Management) Act 1995, Part IV, Sections 22 (3) specifies “Before any National Budget or appropriation is prepared for submission to the Parliament, the National Executive Council shall consult with any appropriate Permanent Parliamentary Committee, but this subsection does not confer any right or impose any duty of consultation after the initial stages of the preparation of the National Budget or appropriation”. It also specifies under Section 23, that the “Departmental Head of the Department responsible for financial management may consult with …the Speaker or a member of the Parliamentary Service nominated by the Speaker for the purpose… relating to the estimates of expenditure submitted by the Speaker under Section 209(2B) (Parliamentary responsibility) of the Constitution” http://www.paclii.org/pg/legis/consol_act/pfa1995224/ COMMENTS: Researcher: Although it is required to present the Budget to any appropriate Permanent Parliamentary Committee, notably the Plans and Estimates Committee, in practice this hasn't been occurring until the last days, immediately before the Budget is tabled. For the 2017 Budget, on 3 successive days Treasury staff tried to arrange a briefing with the Parliamentary Planning and Estimates Committee, but only finally arranged a meeting on the final morning, immediately before the lockup (when the proposed Budget is presented to the media) and tabled before the full Legislature. No committee member, however, turned up, according to the Treasury Secretary. The committee (and other Parliamentary committees) are reported not to be functioning (according to Parliamentarians), partly as Parliament is suffering from lack of funding, according to Parliament staff.

113: During the last approval process, did legislative committees, responsible for particular sectors (e.g., health, education, defense, etc.), examine spending in the Executive's Budget Proposal related to the sector for which they are responsible?

a. (100) Yes, sector committees had at least one month to examine the Executive's Budget Proposal, and they published reports with findings and recommendations prior to the budget being adopted.

b. (67) Yes, sector committees had less than one month to examine the Executive's Budget Proposal, and they published reports with findings and recommendations prior to the budget being adopted.

The executive is required by law or regulation to obtain approval from the legislature prior to shifting funds between administrative units, but it does so in practice.

Sources: Under Section 215 of the PNG Constitution 'there shall be a Public Accounts Committee, which is a Permanent Parliamentary Committee for the purposes of Subdivision VI.2.E (the Committee system). Section 216, sets out the Functions of the Committee: (1) The primary function of the Public Accounts Committee is, in accordance with an Act of the Parliament, to examine and report to the Parliament on the public accounts of Papua New Guinea and on the control of and on transactions with or concerning, the public moneys and property of Papua New Guinea. (2) Subsection (1) extends to any accounts, finances and property that are subject to inspection and audit by the Auditor-General under Section 214(2) (functions of the Auditor-General), and to reports by the Auditor-General under that subsection or Section 214(3) (functions of the Auditor-General). (2) An Act of the Parliament may expand, and may provide in more detail for, the functions of the Committee under Subsections (1) and (2), and may confer on the Committee additional functions and duties not inconsistent with the performance of the functions and duties conferred and imposed by those subsections.

http://www.parliament.gov.pg/images/misc/PNG-CONSTITUTION.pdf The role of the Public Accounts Committee is set out in PART X. of the Public Finances (management) Act 1995, notably in Sections 86 and 87: (1) The functions of the Committee are-- (a) to examine the accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the Public Account and each statement and report of the Auditor-General presented to the Parliament under Section 214 of the Constitution or Section 113(8)(a) of the Organic Law on Provincial Governments and Local-level Governments; and (b) in accordance with Section 87, to examine and report on the accounts of a public body; and (c) to report to the Parliament, with such comments as it thinks proper, any items or matters in those accounts, statements and reports, or any circumstances connected with them, to which the Committee is of the opinion that the attention of the Parliament should be directed; and (d) to report to the Parliament any alteration that the Committee thinks desirable-- (i) in the form of the public accounts; or (ii) in the method of keeping them; or (iii) in the method of collection, receipt, expenditure or issue of public moneys; or (iv) for the receipt, custody, disposal, issue or use of stores or other property of the State; and (e) to inquire into any question in connection with the public accounts that is referred to it by the Parliament, and to report to the Parliament on the question, and include such other duties as are assigned to the Committee by the Standing Orders of the National Parliament. (2) Any member of the Parliament may move for the reference to the Committee of any question in connection with the public accounts, for report to the Parliament. ACCOUNTS OF CERTAIN PUBLIC BODIES. (1) In addition to its other functions and duties under the Constitution or any other law, the Committee may, of its own motion, and shall, if the Parliament so resolves, examine and report on the accounts of a public body to which this section applies in the same way as it is required to examine and report on the public accounts under Section 86. (2) In examining and reporting on the accounts of a public body to which this section applies, the Committee may examine and report on any statement or report of the Auditor-General relating to the public body that has been presented to or tabled in the Parliament. (3) This section applies to any governmental body, authority or instrumentality (corporate or unincorporate) established by or under an Act and also to any subsidiary company of a public body as defined in Section 48-- (a) whose accounts are subject to examination or audit by the Auditor-General; or (b) for whose purposes a specified sum of money, or a sum not exceeding a specified sum, has been appropriated by the Parliament by way of grant, or to which a grant of a sum of money has been made out of the Public Account, at any time during the five full financial years-- (i) when the Committee acts of its own motion--immediately preceding the commencement of the examination; and (ii) when a resolution referred to in Subsection (1) is passed by the Parliament--immediately preceding the date of the resolution. (4) Where-- (a) this section applies to a public body only because of a particular appropriation or grant of money as specified in Subsection (3)(b); and (b) the appropriation or grant is limited to a specific purpose, the provisions of this section relate to the examination of and report on the accounts of the public body only so far as they relate to the application of the money appropriated or granted for that purpose, and do not authorize an examination of those accounts beyond what is necessary to that end.

Comments: Researcher: The Parliamentary Public Accounts Committee is established under Sections 215 and 216 the Constitution, with detailed functions and operating rules and obligations set out under Part X of the Sections 72-101 of the Public Finances (management) Act. However, the Parliamentary Committees are operating under very tight finances and largely inoperative at the moment. (It is understood that this might be the result of the loss or change of its Secretariat, perhaps owing to shortfall of funding). The PAC almost entirely operates on the basis of the annual and thematic audit reports from the office of the Auditor-General, which are in many cases several years behind. The PAC is therefore providing little, or virtually no oversight of the performance of the current Budget. Other Parliamentary Committees, also provided for under the Constitution, to address sectoral, including Budget issues, are currently reported to be inoperative, or largely inoperative, partly as a result of little or no funding for their purpose.

Comments: Researcher: So long as the adjustments fall within the ceiling set for Secretary's advance (raised from 40-100 million PGK in the 2014 Budget - Division 207, page 184, Volume 2 (1A), transfers may be made to new activities or between activities, subject to the rather open conditions set out in the Appropriation Act. Any unexpended funds under the appropriation may be transferred by the Secretary up to 10% of the total appropriation (PGK 1.8 billion), again subject to rather open restrictions. Various other transfers are allowed, e.g. for capital expenditure, loan funded expenditure, subject to their own ceilings and conditions. Above the ceilings specified any transfers between existing activities or to new activities would require approval from the Legislature in a Supplementary Budget

A copy of what was presented to the Legislature is provided, at an attachment).

Comments: Researcher: Additional expenditure in excess of the original appropriation (or transfers in excess of the ceiling allowed or additional borrowings, as a result of a shortfall in revenue ) require the approval of the Legislature through a Supplementary Appropriation. The Supplementary (Appropriation Reduction) Act 2016, is an example of a Supplementary Budget and Appropriation where a reduction in the ceiling on expenditure is required to adjust to reduced actual and forecast revenue, and where proceeding on the basis of the original Budget would entail borrowing in excess of the level authorised in the Budget (but potentially also under the Fiscal Responsibility Act). In 2016 the Supplementary Budget (in August 2016) was introduced and authorised in a more timely manner than in 2015, when a similar revenue shortfall and high expenditure also required authorisation for adjustments, but in 2015 this occurred in November, when the capacity to make timely adjustments was largely diminished.

118: Did a committee of the legislature examine the Audit Report on the annual budget produced by the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI)?

a. (100) Yes, a committee examined the Audit Report on the annual budget within three months of its availability, and it published a report with findings and recommendations

b. (67) Yes, a committee examined the Audit Report on the annual budget within six months (but more than three months) of its availability, and it published a report with findings and recommendations.

c. (33) Yes, a committee examined the Audit Report on the annual budget, but it did so after the report had been available for more than six months or it did not publish any report with findings and recommendations.

d. (0) No, a committee did not examine the Audit Report on the annual budget.

e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: d.

The audit of the Public Account (in its entirety) is well behind schedule. The Parliamentary Public Accounts Committee is reported not to have met since 2014 to have considered the reports referred to it by the Legislature. Components of the annual audit of public institutions are being released progressively, mostly very out of date, but some are current, notably the attached Report of the Auditor-General on Public Bodies and their Subsidiaries and National Government-owned Companies, Part IV of 2015. The reports are referred to the Parliamentary Public Accounts Committee for consideration and to report back to the full Legislature, but the Committee has reportedly been inoperative.

b. (0) No, the executive may appoint the head of the SAI without the final consent of the legislature or judiciary.

(3) In the performance of his functions under this Constitution, the Auditor-General is not subject to the control or direction of any person or authority.

Comments: Researcher: The current head of the SAI has held office for several years. He appears to have been appointed in accordance with the relevant laws. Few senior public sector appointments in PNG are made without some attempt at patronage or politics or vendetta. As (http://vendetta.As) far as we are aware, the SAI’s appointment was made on merit and without such interference. However, it’s true that the appointment process, giving the executive government the main say in the appointment, with only consultation with the Public Services Commission and Parliamentary Public Accounts Committee, does potentially allow for potential undue influence in his appointment by the government. However, the revocation of the appointment does need to gain the consent of various independent authorities, including a Judicial tribunal, providing reasonable independence and autonomy once in office.

120: Must a branch of government other than the executive (such as the legislature or the judiciary) give final consent before the head of the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) can be removed from office?

a. (100) Yes, the head of the SAI may only be removed by the legislature or judiciary, or the legislature or judiciary must give final consent before he or she is removed.

b. (0) No, the executive may remove the head of the SAI without the final consent of the judiciary or legislature.

GROUNDS OF REMOVAL. A constitutional office-holder may be removed from office only- (a) for inability (whether arising from physical or mental infirmity or otherwise) to perform the functions and duties of his office; or (b) for misbehaviour; or (c) in accordance with Division III.2 (leadership code) of the Constitution, for misconduct in office; or (d) for a breach or contravention of a condition of employment laid down in the Organic Law relating to the Office-holder. 8. REMOVAL FROM OFFICE. (1) The appointing authority shall, at the same time as it takes action under Section 5, refer the matter of the removal of the constitutional office-holder from office, together with a statement of the reasons for its opinion, to the tribunal for investigation and report back to it. (2) If the tribunal reports that the constitutional office-holder should be removed from office, the appointing authority shall, by notice in writing to the office-holder, remove him from office. (3) The appointing authority shall send a copy of the notice, together with a copy of the report of the tribunal to the Speaker for presentation to the Parliament.
121: Who determines the budget of the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI)?

a. (100) The SAI determines its own budget (i.e., submits it to the executive, which accepts it with little or no change, or directly to the legislature), or the budget of the SAI is determined by the legislature or judiciary (or some independent body), and the funding level is broadly consistent with the resources the SAI needs to fulfill its mandate.
b. (67) The budget of the SAI is determined by the executive, and the funding level is broadly consistent with the resources the SAI needs to fulfill its mandate.
c. (33) The budget of the SAI is determined by the legislature or judiciary (or some independent body), but the funding level is not consistent with the resources the SAI needs to fulfill its mandate.
d. (0) The budget of the SAI is determined by the executive, and the funding level is not consistent with the resources the SAI needs to fulfill its mandate.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Answer: d.

Sources: The SAI proposes its own Budget, submits it to the Executive, which determines its allocation, and submits that to the Legislature for approval, as part of its Budget Proposal, which is invariably accepted in total. The Funding is inconsistent with the resources needed to fulfill its mandate, after the Executive has made its irrevocable cuts to achieve its fiscal objectives (and for other possible objectives, including potentially clipping the SAI’s wings). Comments: Researcher: The SAI is a Constitutional Office holder who may only be removed from office following referral by the appointing Authority (which is the Executive) to an Office Holders Rights Tribunal, comprising 3 judges, appointed by the Chief Justice, which must authorise that the Office Holder should be removed, following consideration of the evidence, before the appointing authority may proceed to effect that action, on the grounds permissible under the Organic Law (S 7) PEER Comments: Researcher: The Auditor General (SAI) is an independent Constitutional office, required and empowered under the Constitution to undertake routine annual audits of all public bodies, but also to inspect and audit and report to the Parliament on any accounts, finances or property of a body, as it sees fit, insofar as they relate to, or consist of, or are derived from public moneys or property. On this legal basis the SAI should be rated ‘a’, however some efforts in recent years apparently to place some institutions (e.g. Petromin and the National Development Bank) outside the remit of the SAI (although the SAI states that he retains the power) have seemed to undermine the SAI’s capacity to examine the books of some entities, (although the main constraints to application of its authority are budgetary, and the disinclination of public bodies to submit financial returns to the SAI in a timely manner, rather than specifically the legal mandate). Sources: The Office of the Auditor General advises that they have a technical branch with functional responsibility for Quality Assurance over audit methodology and practice. There is also a technical assistance project providing support to the AG’s office, including on audit standards and training.

Comments: Researcher: The Office of the Auditor General does have technical branch which carries functional responsibility for Quality Assurance over audit methodology and practice. However it’s terribly understaffed and short on the required skills and in reality, performs very few quality processes (so C, might be a bit generous) There is also a technical assistance project providing support to the AG’s office, including on audit standards and training. (In the Auditor-General’s new corporate plan they are reportedly seeking to enhance the focus and resources given to quality processes, but it will be some time to build up the skills and culture change required for a full quality system.)

Comments: The researcher has provided additional insight which I can not verify. However, the information provides more in-depth analysis to support the ‘c’ scoring. The question asks whether a unit within the SAI is charged with this responsibility but does not consider the capacity and resources to do this. Therefore, if an internal unit has responsibility but is unable to undertake this role due to lack of capacity or resources, this may be considered a ‘d’, as the researcher has alluded to.

Researcher response: There is very little evidence to support the fact that there exists a review of the audit processes by an internal unit within the SAI. For this reason, I have revised the score to “d”.
124: In the past 12 months, how frequently did the head or a senior staff member of the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) take part and testify in hearings of a committee of the legislature?

Sources: The Public Accounts Committee has been highly inactive over the past year, partly owing to lack of funding and reported change of its secretariat. Reports from the Auditor-General have been tabled in Parliament in the past 6 months, and referred to the Public Accounts Committee for examination and for reporting back. Some recent statements have been made by the Committee chairman that the Committee is actioning this, but committee members have stated that no committee meetings have occurred since 2014.

Comments: Researcher: Audit reports from the SAI have been tabled in Parliament during 2016, and referred to the Parliamentary Public Accounts Committee, but the Committee is reported (by Committee members) not to have met since 2014.

Sources: PNG National Planning and Monitoring Responsibility Act 2016 - requires the annual Budget complies with a national planning framework, including linkage to the Medium Term Development Plan, and requires the release of an Annual Budget Framework paper, four months before the tabling of the National Budget. (but there's no specific reference to public consultation in the Act, other than in associated policies, such as for development cooperation etc. PNG Development Cooperation Policy (Feb 2016), specifying the requirements for consultation, including with civil society, in the planning and utilisation of development assistance.

Comments: Researcher: There is no formal requirement to engage with the public during the Budget formulation process, however with the introduction of the national planning framework in February 2016, the PNG National Planning and Monitoring Responsibility Act 2016, and a series of associated planning requirements, including on development cooperation, there is a requirement to consult government bodies, but only an implied requirement to consult with civil society, although an explicit requirement with respect to budget contributions by development partners, where the CIMC process is specified as facilitating the process. The Consultative Implementation and Monitoring Council (CIMC) process of National and Regional Development Forums provides an avenue for contributing to aspects of the Budgetary process (co-funded by the Government and a development partner), and is actively supported by the Planning Ministry. It entails some public briefings on the economic and budget situation, normally mid-year at the National Forum (but in 2016 it was held in October). The 3 day national forum in October 2016, which was widely attended by the public from around the country, media and government agencies, including presentations by the Prime Minister for a while, also responding to questions from the public, extensively by the Planning Ministry, with presentations and questions on the economy and prospective 2017 Budget from the Treasury Secretary, Planning Secretary, Central bank Governor, and other sectoral heads etc.

Comments: I do not agree with the researcher. There is no evidence that the Executive (government) has an ad hoc mechanism to engage with the public through civil society organisations and/or there is discretion as to who can participate AND some form of public record so that the all CSOs and individual members of the public can have knowledge of the meeting, who participated, and what was discussed. The CIMC does provide at least the nucleus of this engagement but there must be evidence that that engagement is considered in the formulation of the budget proposal. The planning act ‘ensures that all relevant state bodies are consulted when developing the MTDP, planning framework and annual budget framework. The definition of state bodies does not include civil society. The development cooperation policy only recognises the work of CSOs, that is, ‘The Government of PNG intends to take appropriate measures to formally recognise these contributions in its planning and programming process in the medium to long term’ (page 18). The researcher has provided an agenda (Theme: Showcasing Achievements: Government fulfilling Development Aspirations & Improving Service Delivery through Strategic Partnerships, dated 18–20 October 2016) that could provide the ‘ad hoc’ forum for public participation. However, the outcomes of this forum would not have influenced the EBP which was presented to Parliament on 1 November 2016. Furthermore, there appears to be some ‘community’ representation but it would appear to be a Government only invitation heading into an election year AND there is no public record of what was actually discussed.

Researcher response: I agree that the NDF in 2016 was late in the year to contribute to the Budget process. The NDF is normally held in June and is the culmination of the 4 regional forums, which are open to anyone, as per the newspaper advertisements, as well as by invitation. 2016 was an aberration but the NDF did occur, and was, as usual open to all and well attended, and there had been the prior 9 sector committee meetings through the year gaining feedback, and making presentations to the Planning Minister in August, to be able to incorporate in the Budget. It is an unusual mechanism as it not specifically run by the executive, but an independent body, but the funding comes from public funds and the Executive (notably Planning Ministry/Dept) sees this as the vehicle for 2 way dialogue on various development issues, but clearly not simply or specifically the annual Budget. C is a pretty weak rating. The Government did ask last year to exclude some from participation but were told no, it was open to invitees and anyone else who chose to come, as per the advertisements. In some years it’s recommendations do get incorporated into policies, legislation and the Budget...I can’t say that was the case last year (although the CIMC process itself was provided a Budget line item)Here is the outcome report from 2015:
The fuller report from the 2016 National forum was made available to participants in the 2017 Forum, held in June 2017, but it's not yet on the CIMC website. Here's some material on it in the CIMC end of 2016 newsletter:
http://www.cimcpng.net/images/Newsletterr3.pdf For these reasons, we think "c" is still the appropriate score.

IBP comment: Despite repeated requests to the Government of Papua New Guinea for its comments on the draft Open Budget Questionnaire results, IBP did not receive any response. The survey tool used, however, did not allow the government response to be left blank, and did not permit changes in the answer options. Therefore, the “I am not qualified to judge this indicator” option had to be selected. The appropriate answer would have been “NOT APPLICABLE”, because the government did not provide any comments to any of the questions in the Open Budget Survey.

126: With regard to the mechanism identified in question 125, does the executive take concrete steps to include vulnerable and under-represented parts of the population in the formulation of the annual budget?

a. (100) Yes, the executive takes concrete steps to include individuals and/or CSOs representing vulnerable and underrepresented parts of the population in the formulation of the annual budget.
b. (0) The requirements for an “a” response are not met.
c. Not applicable (please comment).

Answer: b.

Sources: New frameworks have been introduced, linked by the National Planning and Monitoring Act 2016 to the annual Budget process, including the State-Civil Society Partnership, but at this stage it only being rolled out and not yet being fully applied, let alone influencing the Budget or budget allocations.

Comments: The researcher is probably correct on this question. The NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FORUM, dated 18-20 October 2016, which I have suggested would have no bearing on the formulation of the 2017 budget proposal, does have some sessions focused on socially vulnerable groups and/or underrepresented in national processes. For example, there is a session on 1. Citizen empowerment and district development through partnerships, 2. Health service delivery through partnerships: Outcomes and issues including plans for addressing the ageing health workforce, 3. Approaches to address Women & Gender related issues: Outcomes and the way forward, 4. View on initiatives and approaches by government to women empowerment and inclusive development through partnerships and 5. (Youth) Skills development and employment in partnership with development partners, issues and the way forward.

For the purpose of this question, key topics are considered to be:

1. Macroeconomic issues
2. Revenue forecasts, policies, and administration
3. Social spending policies
4. Deficit and debt levels
5. Public investment projects
6. Public services
a. (100) Yes, the executive uses open participation mechanisms through which members of the public and government officials exchange views on budget implementation.

b. (67) Yes, the executive uses open participation mechanisms through which members of the public provide their inputs on budget implementation.

National Development Forum CIMC National Development Forum – Program and addresses by Treasury/Secretary and others. The areas where some influence may bear on the Budget outcome from consultations relate to 3, 5 and 6, notably social spending policies, public investment projects and public services, although with the 2017 Budget entailing major across the Board budget cuts, in view of very tight revenue, it certainly didn't entail any new or increased expenditure for 2017, although might have influenced where cuts were applied or their extent. Copies of presentations here: http://www.cimcpng.net/index.php/forums/national-development...

Comments: Researcher: There was some dialogue (largely presentations, but some opportunity for feedback), late in the Budget preparation, on a range of issues related to the 2017 Budget during the CIMC National Development Forum, also through the CIMC sector committees, although their mechanism to link up to the Budget is not strong, but depends largely upon recommendations through the CIMC Council meeting, held in mid-August, chaired by the Minister for National Planning. CIMC is co-funded by the Government and managed by civil society to facilitate Government-civil society and private sector partnership. The Minister for National Planning has extensive influence on the Budget process, including through the National Planning and Monitoring Act.

Comments: The researcher has relied upon the CIMC National Development Forum as the basis of the engagement with the public on the budget formulation. This forum was conducted on the 18-20 October 2016 and the Budget Strategy Paper is dated 29 October 2016, the EBP was presented to Parliament on 1 November 2016. I cannot see how this forum could have influenced the budget formulation at this stage. There is no record of who attended provided or any minutes as to the recommendations and how they 'could' be incorporated into the budget. The CIMC forum appears more of a Government Information session on their achievements rather than active engagement with citizens/CSOs.

Opinion: Not Qualified

Researcher response: I agree that the Budget engagement, explicitly, is tenuous. Some years Treasury invites Budget feedback from the [public (it has in 2017, but didn't in 2016); the CIMC and to some extent the NEFC consultations are pretty well the nearest or only thing. As you say the NDF only occurred in October, as opposed to its normal timing in June/July, providing little opportunity for input. However, the CIMC process did include extensive sector committee meetings (from the Budget tracking committee to health and Commerce and Services) and the CIMC Council meeting in August, at which issues/recommendations were provided to the Planning Minister and other Govt participants (several Dept heads etc) from the Chairs of the respective sector committees. The Sector Committees are not as widely open to the public as the Regional and National Development forum, which are advertised as being open to anyone wishing to attend. We disagree with the reviewer and have kept the score unchanged at "b".

128: Does the executive use participation mechanisms through which the public can provide input in monitoring the implementation of the annual budget?

a. (100) Yes, the executive uses open participation mechanisms through which members of the public and government officials exchange views on budget implementation.

d. (0) The requirements for a "c" response or above are not met.

e. Not applicable (please comment)

Answer: d.

Sources: CIMC National Development Forum 2016; this is a government-civil society-private sector system of consultation, linked through the National Planning Ministry and framework, including the National Planning and Monitoring Act. Although administered by a civil society organisation, it is established under a Cabinet Decision and part funded in the Budget, and chaired by the Minister for National Planning, who tables the recommendations from the consultations with the Cabinet. http://www.cimcpng.net/index.php/forums/national-development...

Comments: Researcher: The CIMC process is an unusual PNG model, which is government endorsed and part-funded, managed by a civil society organisation, but chaired by the Minister for National Planning (who is responsible for the 'Development' component of the Annual Budget - notably Volume 3). The recommendation from the forums and sector committees are presented to the Cabinet, and referred to in some Government policy documents as the required consultative process. The 2016 National Development Forum was addressed by the Prime Minister, who took questions from the public, and attended for the full 3 days by the Planning Minister, and various Departmental heads, as well as civil society, development partners etc. Presentations and feedback were provided by the heads of the Treasury and Central Bank, as well as key line agencies, with recommendations provided from focus group sessions. The EITI process, chaired by the Treasurer, and engaging government, private sector and civil society, examines the flows from the extractive sector, but apart from seeking to expose transfers and minimise opportunities for leakage, it does not explicitly influence the annual Budget, and in any case, at this stage is only reporting upon BY-2 (it is planned to catch up in 2017, but undertaking reporting for both BY-2 and BY-1, enabling some greater influence on the next year's Budget).

Comments: I do not agree with the researcher on the scoring that the ‘executive uses participation mechanisms during the budget implementation phase, but either these mechanisms capture only some ad-hoc views, or the executive invites specific individuals or groups for budget discussions (participation is not, in practice, open to everyone)’. I continue to point to the lateness of this CIMC forum in having any influence on the formulation of the 2017 Budget. An excerpt from the Development Forum would seem to support the Researcher’s position. “The 2016 National Development Forum was again held in Port Moresby and was attended by more than 400 people over three days. Participants included Department Secretaries, Government leaders, Private Sector leaders, Donors, Churches, Development Partners, Persons with Disability, a range of regional civil society organisations, the media and politicians. Again 44 Provincial representatives (two from each province) were invited to represent their provinces at the forum while some attended at their own cost. The Theme for the forum “Showcasing Achievements: Government fulfilling Development Aspirations & Improving Service Delivery through Strategic Partnerships”. Discussions were very dynamic with the audience engaging in a wide range of topics presented from foreign policy, governance mechanisms, local level development, transparency in the extractive sector and overall state of the economy. Importantly the forum provided the opportunity for government, development partners and the private sector to highlight development achievements through strategic partnerships in alignment with government policies and plans. An important rationale also was to ensure the opportunity for citizens and their various representative to learn about current government policies and plans was provided’. However, the Executive controlled the agenda, the focus is on ‘showcasing achievements and the website cited only includes presentations, not a record of who attended, the discussions and any outcomes for consideration by the Executive. I might also point out that the objectives of the Forums are: • Public education on important policies and plans to enhance wider public understanding • Government to obtain feedback from the public to design or reconsider existing policies and programs, especially to improve implementation of policies • Getting authorities out in the open to explain their positions and the functions of the offices they manage There doesn’t appear to be an opportunity to influence the Budget. The researcher also makes the comment that it doesn’t ‘explicitly influence the budget’. I believe a more appropriate response for the FY2017 budget is a ‘d’. The CIMC may, in the future, meet the requirements for this question but the forum(s) must be held earlier and evidence to support the Executive’s consideration of the outcomes of the forum is provided.

Opinion: Not Qualified

Researcher response: I agree that the 2016 CIMC process allowed limited input into the monitoring implementation of the Budget, as, unlike normal years, there was inadequate funding to host the 4 regional development forums in the first half of the year, and the National forum around mid-year (as occurred in 2015 or 2017). The score was revised to “d”.

129: With regard to the mechanism identified in question 128, does the executive take concrete steps to receive input from vulnerable and under-represented parts of the population on the implementation of the annual budget?

a. (100) Yes, the executive takes concrete steps to receive input from individuals from and/or organizations representing vulnerable and underrepresented parts of the population on the implementation of the annual budget.
b. (0) The requirements for an “a” response are not met.
c. Not applicable (please comment).

Answer: b.

Comments: Researcher: Although the system of consultative process under CIMC is established, and includes some focus on some disadvantaged groups (victims of family and sexual violence and on child protection) and on needs at the subnational levels, the links to the Budget process remain weak at this stage, despite the rolling out of the National Development and Monitoring Responsibility Act and associated National Development Framework and policies, including on citizenship engagement.

2. Delivery of public services
3. Collection of revenue
4. Implementation of social spending
5. Changes in deficit and debt levels
6. Implementation of public investment projects

Comments: Researcher: Apart from the release of revenue and expenditure material by the Treasury in the Mid-Year Economic and Fiscal Outlook report and the End of Year Report and the ongoing efforts of CIMC with respect to sharing some budget information during the year, including expenditure under the large Constituency Development Funds, there is little ongoing commitment to dialogue or provision of pertinent material for that purpose by the central agencies, although commitments in relation to the new National Planning and Monitoring Responsibility Act and associated policies, may encourage the process.

Comprehensive information must include at least three of the following elements:
1. Purpose
2. Scope
3. Constraints
4. Intended outcomes
5. Process and timeline

a. (100) Comprehensive information is provided in a timely manner prior to citizens engagement in both budget formulation and implementation phases.

Comments: Researcher: Information is provided to government, notably through the government/donor co-funded CIMC process, notably at the CIMC Council meeting and National Development Forum on issues related to the Budget, but also other public policy issues, often after lively policy discussion at civil society level, but at this stage the dialogue is still not adequately systematic either in presentation or in terms of feedback and incorporation in the budget. (In 2016, for budgetary reasons, the regional forums were not held, only the National Development Forum, the Council meeting and multiple economic and social sector committee consultations)

Comments: The CIMC NDP Forum has the goal of: • Public education on important policies and plans to enhance wider public understanding • Government to obtain feedback from the public to design or reconsider existing policies and programs, especially to improve implementation of policies • Getting authorities out in the open to explain their positions and the functions of the offices they manage This forum did not, in my opinion, influence the 2017 EBP. However, as an information session, it would certainly draw on the implementation of the budget for FY2016 and the range of presentations, in an election year, point to that. The score rests between a ‘c’ and a ‘d’. In my opinion, a ‘d’ score would be slightly more realistic but the CIMC development forums could provide a useful avenue for public participation in the future.

Comments: The researcher has not provided any supportive evidence to support a 'c' score and establish that the executive provides a written record which includes either the list of the inputs received or a report or summary on how they were used. I accept that CIMC can provide a useful input from the public to the budget formulation process if it is held early enough to influence the budget AND the Executive takes note of the recommendations. However, for FY 2017, I am not convinced that ‘the executive provides information to citizens on which public inputs were received during the implementation of the annual budget, which ones are take into account to improve budget monitoring, and how/why’. The researcher has not provided any reference to a “written record”, a document that is produced and released by the lead budget agency (Ministry of Finance, Treasury) that has set up and holds the participation activity. A ‘d’ score is more appropriate.

Answer: b.

Sources:
Comments: The timetable required for releasing the end of year and mid year fiscal reports are specified in the Fiscal Responsibility Act, along with the date for the Budget Strategy Paper. Under the National Planning and Monitoring Responsibility Act an annual budget framework paper must be released 4 months before the tabling of the Budget, linking the Budget to the Medium Term Development Plan, which is part of the National Planning Framework and targets the National Service Delivery Frameworks, setting out minimum standards for public sector service delivery. The process requires extensive consultation and timely reporting, although apart from releasing documents to the public, the public consultation process is largely implicit, rather specific. (Hitherto the Treasury circulars used to specify dates for public input into the annual budget process, but these circulars have not been available in recent years)

Sources: CIMC sector Committees, which meet quarterly, in some cases chaired by the Secretary of one of the key relevant departments, such as Education, Health, Provincial and Local Level Govt Affairs, Community Development, Justice, with the Council chaired by the Planning Minister, but also attended by other line agency heads. http://www.cimcpng.net/index.php/committees http://www.cimcpng.net/index.php/committees Comments: There is no systematic process of consultation by line agencies, Many line agencies attend CIMC sector committees and present and take questions and feedback from the Regional and National Development Forums (National Forum in October 2016) and the CIMC Council meeting (held in August 2016). There is little systematic incorporation of views, or feedback to the forum recommendations from line agencies, although the National Development Forum recommendations are presented by the Planning Minister in Cabinet, (sometimes before but sometimes after the EBP), CIMC undertakes some monitoring of the civil society recommendations, over time, into outcomes, including which sectors are more responsive or less responsive to civil society recommendations.

Answer: d.

Sources: Parliamentary Committees as they stand in theory (in practice few are meeting) http://www.parliament.gov.pg/work-of-parliamentary-committee...

Comments: Researcher: The Parliamentary Plans and Estimates Committee seems to be inoperative at the moment and the Public Accounts Committee, which does hold hearings when it is operating, has held no public hearings on the public accounts over the past year, which could have contributed to the Budget. Other Parliamentary committees are reported to have been largely inoperative over the past year, partly owing to lack of funds; (although the public sector reform committee is reported to have held a meeting in late 2016)

Answer: d.

Sources: Normally public hearings are undertaken by the Public Accounts Committee on different aspects of the Audit report. But the committee has not been holding meetings in recent months http://www.parliament.gov.pg/index.php/work-of-committee/per...

Comments: Researcher: Normally public hearings are undertaken by the Public Accounts Committee on different aspects of the Audit report. But the committee has been dormant over recent months, reportedly in view of a changeover of the secretariat. Various reports have recently been referred to the committee by the Legislature, and the Committee has indicated that Hearings will be resumed 140: Does the Supreme Audit Institution (SAI) maintain formal mechanisms through which the public can suggest issues/topics to include in the SAI’s audit program (for example, by bringing ideas on agencies, programs, or projects that could be audited)?

a. (100) Yes, the SAI maintains formal mechanisms through which the public can suggest issues/topics to include in its audit program
b. (0) The requirements for an “a” response are not met.
c. Not applicable (please comment).

Answer: b.

Comments: Researcher: The Constitution and Audit Act specify the powers to access financial and related data pertinent to Public Bodies. Section 214 of the Constitution requires the Auditor-General to report at least once every fiscal year to the Parliament on the Public Accounts of PNG and on the control of, and on transactions with or concerning, public monies and property of PNG. Further, Section 123 (8) of the Organic Law on Provincial Governments and Local-level Governments requires the Office to furnish audit reports on Provincial and Local-level Governments each year. These reporting responsibilities are fulfilled by the preparation of four compendium financial audit reports annually, named Part 1 to 4. The Auditor-General also undertakes a variety of Performance Audit and Special Review Reports, aimed at looking at performance and efficiency issues. Performance audits play an important role in improving the administration and management practices of public sector entities. The performance audits, such as of the District Services Improvement Program, particularly need community input, but the community might also highlight themes worthy of performance audit. There are no formal arrangements for public engagement by the Auditor General. As the law stands, audit reports can only be made public once they have been presented to, and tabled in Parliament. This can only occur when Parliament is sitting. However, with some 1,000 public bodies to inspect across the country, and expenditure occurring in the most remote locations, which are inaccessible to the Auditor General’s staff, the SAI has indicated it is keen to be developing mechanisms for public information and feedback. The Auditor General and staff have readily attended workshop and forums to explain their challenges and solicit cooperation, both with respect to inputs and output, although these have not been formalised as yet.

Comments: Researcher: At this stage the SAI is tightly funded and struggling to perform its basic audit functions of public bodies, and occasional performance audits, It has not yet established a formal mechanism for public input and feedback and therefore is not providing public feedback on their audit proposals and input.
